BRITISH GAIN ON TWO FRONTS

As Chinese Rescued Injured Raiders - - Doolittle Looks at Wreckage

Chinese soldiers are shown (left) bringing in a group of American fliers forced down near this village after they had bombed objectives in Japan. In center right of group advancing toward camera, his arms held aloft by the Chinese is Col. John Hilger who was injured when his plane landed. At right, draped atop a rocky peak somewhere in China lies the wreckage of Maj. Gen. James Doolittle's own bombing plane in which he led the American fliers who bombed Tokyo and other Japanese industrial centers. Gen. Doolittle and his crew bailed out just before the crash caused by exhaustion of the fuel supply. Note the rugged, mountainous terrain in background.

Allies Down 20 Big 6-Engined Nazi Aircraft

Bag 38 Planes In Day as Ground Troops Stab Into Axis Mountain Defenses With Infantry Fighting Hard to Make Yard-by-Yard Advances.

(By Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—The British Eighth army has captured Takrouna and pushed six miles from Enfidaville toward Bou Ficha in twin drives northward and the British First army has stabbed ahead three miles against stubborn Axis resistance in the Bou Arada sector on the western Tunisian front, it was announced today.

These gains aground were coupled with aerial action during which Kittyhawks and Spitfires shot down every one of 20 six-engined Messerschmitt 323's, some carrying troops and others laden with freight, and ten of their escorting fighters encountered over the Gulf of Tunis.

The giant Messerschmitt transports, which dwarf such carriers as the Junkers 52's upon which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has relied largely for reinforcements and supplies, are designed to carry 120 soldiers or almost 10 tons of cargo.

In all, 38 Axis planes were shot down during the day, against an announced loss of five Allied aircraft.

The battle with the transports, regarded here as the most important stroke against enemy supply lines since the start of war, lasted less than 10 minutes. Flames burst from many of the great carriers as they were hit by the fighter bursts. All the transports and the 10 fighters dropped in the sparkling gulf, the sea approach to Tunis. Observers said some transports appeared to be carrying gasoline. Troops who broke clear of the wreckage were seen struggling in the water.

The ground action again was on a large scale.

Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson attacked on a nine-mile front between Goubellat and Bau Arada, south of Medjez-El-Bab, and pushed eastward three miles to tighten the pressure upon the Germans and Italians seeking to hold positions along the Grand Dorsal range to protect Rommel's right and rear. Resistance, however, was described as stubborn.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's weather-bronzed fighters, after hours of bayonet and grenade fighting, were securely astride the two roads which lead from captured Enfidaville northward, one inland and the other a coastal route.

The fortified Takrouna mountain, topped by a Berber citadel, lies five miles northwest of Enfidaville on the inland route to strategic Zaghouan, 28 miles air line south of Tunis.

The British Eighth army meanwhile drove back more strong German counter-attacks on the mountain line extending westward from a point just above Enfidaville and inflicted considerable losses on the enemy, it was announced.

The communique reported the number of German tanks known to have been destroyed in fighting in the Medjez-El-Bab sector Tuesday and Wednesday had increased from 27 to 33 with a further check of the battle area.

Improving weather brought intensive air activity. Medium and light bombers and fighter-bombers attacked enemy troops heavily and continuously, the communique said. Seven of the enemy planes destroyed were shot down in these operations.

Enemy airfields in Tunisia and harbor installations at Carloforte, in Sardinia, were attacked with

2,000 Soft Coal Miners Out on Strike

Strikers Halt Output Of 12,000 Tons a Day

Unrest Blamed as Union Leaders Rap Placing of Dispute Before WLB; General Strike Looming.

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH—A walkout of more than 2,000 soft coal miners, producing 12,000 tons of fuel daily for steel mills, was blamed today on "tremendous unrest of the workers" by a United Mine Workers official who joined two others in predicting a general coal strike unless the union-operator deadlock over wages is broken by May 1.

Joseph Yablonsky, international board member of District 5 (Pittsburgh), said the immediate cause of a work stoppage at three pits of the Republic Steel corporation Wednesday and Thursday was the appearance of Pennsylvania motor police during a controversy involving 20 men, but added:

"In the background is the tremendous unrest of the men . . . against the stalling tactics of the operators."

Declaring that the miners also resent "the placing of their own just demands for more money before the War Labor board" because "they know the cards are stacked against them there," Yablonsky said, "I don't believe anybody can keep them at work after May 1 unless a new agreement is signed."

While nearly 1,000 men left their jobs last night at the

SABOTAGE?

Ex-Navy Inspector Admits He Damaged Planes.

BALTIMORE — (AP) — A 21-year-old former naval inspector at the Glenn L. Martin aircraft plant was being held by the U. S. marshal's office today for sentencing of four charges of damaging planes under construction.

The young man, Harvey Lee Thomas, 21, of Adamstown, Md., was convicted on four charges and acquitted on two. All charges were of violating the federal anti-sabotage statutes.

Federal Judge William C. Coleman at one point during the three-day trial referred to what he termed "the evident lack of cooperation, to say the least, between the navy, the Martin company and the FBI."

Thomas, being held for sentencing on Monday, told the jury he aggravated damage to defective parts only so that Martin workmen would correct the faults.

WILL GET WHEAT

U. S. Expected To Get Part Of 180,000,000 'Loan' Bushels.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government will come into possession of about 180,000,000 bushels of wheat a week from today unless several hundred thousand farmer-borrowers pay off $225,000,000 in loans extended on the grain last year.

The loans will not be extended, officials said. Grain officials expect the bulk of the wheat to be turned over to the government. They explain that present market prices of most types of wheat are a few cents below the loan value.

LABOR IRKED BY NO-RAISE RULE

WMC Sees Revolt Based on Pay Rather Than Freeze Limitations of FDR.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Manpower commission officials admitted today that President Roosevelt's recent "hold-the-line" order had knocked out 75 per cent of the possibilities for wage increases on the part of organized labor.

This, they acknowledged, is the prime reason for an incipient "revolt" in labor ranks, including both the CIO and AFL, and not so much the job-wage freeze regulations which were issued by

Stills, Gambling Flourished In Model Prison

ATLANTA — (AP) — Big liquor stills and little stills, vice gambling and revolt were common in Georgia's Piney Wood marble "model" penitentiary before 25 prisoners took control one night last week, gorged themselves with food and "departed hilariously," a legislative committee reported.

The committee told Gov. Ellis Arnall yesterday that the new warden who took over from the previous administration recently had suppressed these conditions, but added:

"The conditions were so flagrant and far-reaching that he has not even yet had time to discover and correct all that has been going on."

All except eight of the fugitives have been recaptured.

The committee said new Warden H. R. DuVall found "that there had been intimacies between men prisoners and those in the women's section.

"When the women wanted company, all they had to do was ask for an electrician or a plumber, and it seems that most of the prisoners were either electricians or plumbers.

"Prisoners could buy narcotics, peddle liquor and operate gambling tables."

DEMS COOLING ON TAX PLAN

Administration's 50 Per Cent Forgiveness Bill Fails To Hold Support.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Democratic defections from the administration's new 50 per cent forgiveness pay-as-you-go plan became evident today as the house ways and means committee met to approve it.

Democratic supporters of the Robertson-Forand proposal for 75 per cent cancellation of 1942 taxes reserved the right to offer their plan as a substitute when the committee bill is called up in the house May 3.

Republican leaders already have announced plans for another fight for the Carlson version of the Ruml "Skip-a-year" plan or a compromise which would forgive three-fourths of last year's income taxes for persons making up to $20,000 and one-half for those making more.

All factions are expected to support the 50 per cent proposal in committee today so that it can be made the basis for an open

KIN HELD

Cousin of Mrs. Roosevelt To Face Desertion Charge.

SAN FRANCISCO —(INS)— Seaman second class George Emlen Roosevelt, jr., 24, identified as a second cousin of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, today faced possible court martial as a navy deserter.

Officials of the 12th naval district said his arrest yesterday at San Francisco's swank Bohemian club culminated a two-month search. He was lodged in the navy brig in city jail pending action.

Young Roosevelt, according to the navy, deserted from the Treasure Island base last Feb. 27.

City Buys $203,504 In 'Revenge Bonds'

'Blast Tokyo' Appeal Brings Quick Response; $4,463,363 Raised Toward $6,649,000 Goal.

Striking back at the Japs for their barbarous slaying of American airmen, Mansfielders yesterday bought $203,504.50 worth of war bonds to "blast Tokyo."

Acting on the suggestion of Henry G. Brunner and Paul M. Eliot, co-chairmen of the second war loan campaign, to "Buy Bombs to Blast Tokyo," there was an increased number of individuals buying small amount bonds yesterday, bankers reported. Non-bank sales for the day totalled $194,004.50 while additional bank subscriptions were $9,500.

To date $4,463,363.40 of the $6,649,000 goal has been subscribed with the slogan "a million by Monday," the watchword of workers seeking to put Richland county "over the top." The total number of subscribers is 4,146.

Shelby will stage a big parade, featuring a contingent of soldiers from Camp Millard, as a part of their "Buy Bonds" day tomorrow. Jeep rides will reward the larger purchasers as well as the children who buy $5 or more worth of savings stamps, Frank B. Polley, deputy

STANDS PAT ON RELIEF PROBE

Mayor Says He Asked State 3 Months Ago to Investigate Administration Cost.

Asserting that he asked the state welfare department more than three months ago to send an investigator here to go over relief administration cost figures with city officials, Mayor W. J. Locke said today the county commissioners' announcement that they had already reduced costs would not interfere with the session he had set for next Monday to hear some comparative relief figures from other counties.

After the mayor scheduled the conference on relief administration, county commissioners revealed they had voted April 5 to furlough two relief office employes to reduce administration costs $205 a month. The two employes, Miss Dorothy Arnold and Miss Esther Blancett, will leave their jobs officially May 1 although they were granted a two-week vacation with pay on April 16.

In reply to an earlier announcement that the mayor had scheduled the Monday meeting, commissioners yesterday said he had not inquired about the re-

OHIOAN HONORED

College Head Named 'American Mother of 1943.'

NEW YORK (INS)—Mrs. Mary Moore Thomson, widowed mother of four sons and president of Western College for Women at Oxford, O., today was hailed as the American mother of 1943.

In selecting the Glendale, O., woman who is 55 years old, the American mothers committee of the Golden Rule Foundation found that she represented the highest ideals of American motherhood and family life. Her four sons are either in the armed services or engaged in war work.

Her eldest son, Alexander Thomson, jr., is overseas serving with the Red Cross. The second son, Dabney, is doing war work at Hamilton, O., and the third boy, Lewis Clark, is an ensign in the navy and presently on combat duty in the Pacific. The youngest son, Chilton, is a corporal in the army.

May Company Founder Leaves Vast Sum to Charities.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—The will of Louis Dudley Beaumont, founder of the May department store chain, provides for a trust fund leaving from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 to charitable and educational institutions, an accounting on file in supreme court disclosed today.

Beneficiaries included: Western Reserve university, Cleveland, $200,000 and also Cleveland Jewish orphan home, community fund, Jewish welfare federation, and Greater Cleveland council, Boy Scouts of America, Cleveland.

B, C CARS MUST SHARE RIDES

Ruling Says Those Getting Extra Gas Required To Carry Extra Workers.

Car owners who apply for "B" or "C" gasoline rationing books must agree to share their automobiles with other workers before they can obtain supplemental gas, under an OPA order announced today by the state council of civilian defense.

At the same time, the OPA revealed that car owners with Victory gardens a considerable distance from their homes will receive gasoline for a maximum of 300 miles of extra driving to and from the gardens. The order will provide an extra 20 gallons of gas for gardeners for the entire summer.

Mansfield OCD officials were told today by state civilian defense headquarters, that they will be required to work with the county price rationing panels in acting on motorists' application for "B" and "C" cards.

Applications will be checked against OCD share-ride records to show whether the applicant for more gas has signed up to haul passengers, OCD officials believe. A district OPA representative is expected in the city today or Saturday to outline requirements under the new share-ride ruling.

Four share-ride depots were set

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) —The navy revealed today that the U. S. has occupied the largest of the Ellice islands in the South Pacific which had been seized by the Japanese early in the war.

The Ellice group is within easy striking distance of the Japanese occupied Gilbert islands and is close to the Allied supply lines to the South Pacific.

Disclosure of the occupation was made in a navy communique reporting that enemy bombers attacked U. S. positions on Funafuti in the Ellice group on Thursday.

QUOTA LIFTED

OPA Drops Restriction On Tire Recapping.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— OPA directed ration boards today to remove on May 1 quota restrictions on recapping of truck tires.

The agency said after consultation with Rubber Director William M. Jeffers, who said recapping materials were available for the program, that it was better to "provide recapping as soon as needed rather than risk ruin of some casings that might be driven beyond the recapping point."

Wounded In Action Year From Day He Donned Army Uniform

Just one year ago today thousands of Mansfielders gathered down town to give a contingent of draftees a rousing send-off.

Along with scores of other Mansfield youths who boarded buses headed for the army induction center at Fort Hayes was Ralph C. Stahl.

Ralph C. Stahl

Today, Stahl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elza M. Stahl, Grace avenue, were informed by the war department that their son had been seriously wounded in action on the North African battlefront.

A former employe of the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company, Stahl was with the engineers. He went overseas two months ago.

The telegram to Mr. and Mrs. Stahl read:

"Deeply regret to inform you that your son, Pfc. Ralph C. Stahl was seriously wounded in action in the North African area April 3. Reports will be forwarded to you when received."

The message was signed by Adjutant General Ulio.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Byron S. Chatlain, 335 Cedar street, received word from their son, Lieut. Dean F. Chatlain who was wounded in North Africa on Feb. 1, that his left foot had been amputated.

Lieut. Chatlain, a tank commander, writing from a hospital in England said that he was now able to get around on crutches. He said he felt fortunate that his injury was not more serious since all of his crew had been killed.

SOON: Doolittle Says Fliers Will Return to Jap Homeland

(By Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—American fliers undaunted by Japan's execution of their fellow-pilots, will bomb Japan again "soon" and the bombs will find their targets, avers Major Gen. James H. Doolittle.

The flier who led the first American raid on Tokyo and other Japanese cities last April, and ordered his fliers to spare Emperor Hirohito's palace because it was not a military objective—said he and the other airmen on that mission "want to be on the next raid over Japan . . . We will drop each bomb in memory of our murdered comrades. Our bombs will not be missing their mark."

General Doolittle said his first reaction to President Roosevelt's announcement of the news that some of the eight American fliers captured after the 1942 raid had been executed was "regret that such wanton barbarity could still exist in the civilized world."

Then, he said, he "could only feel a deep loathing and resentment toward the war leaders who are responsible for the act. . . . There must be a futile hope in the perverted Japanese mind that the American people can be intimidated by such atrocities.

"Actually the Japanese announcement will have the opposite effect.

"We do not seek revenge but we do want to have a fighting part in correcting a situation that threatens everything we hold dear,

SCRAMBLES: Hitler Tries to Raise Army Among Satellites

(By United Press)

STOCKHOLM—Adolf Hitler was reported today to be trying to raise a 5,000,000-man army from the people in his continental satellites to meet an Allied invasion.

A Bern dispatch to the newspaper Aftontidningens said the efforts had met only partial success and that Marshal Ion Antonescu of Rumania and Adm. Nicholas Horthy of Hungary objected to obligating their countries.

The long series of conferences by the Nazi fuehrer with Balkan leaders is continuing, the dispatch said. President Josef Tiso of Slovakia and Chief of State Ante Pavelic of Croatia were said to be next on the list.

(A Berlin broadcast recorded by United Press in New York said Tiso, accompanied by members of his government and military leaders, visited Hitler at his headquarters today and promised that Slovakia would "concentrate all her strength towards final victory." Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop also was present, the announcement said.)

According to Bern diplomatic circles, Hitler also wanted to commit his satellites to shouldering a large share of defense against invasion to prevent weakening the Nazi forces on the Russian front.

King Boris, third, of Bulgaria, agreed to take over defense of Thrace, releasing German troops,

STUDY CONDOR

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—(U.P.)—A baby condor born at the local zoo—the first one ever known to be born in captivity—is being closely studied by scientists, as heretofore there has never been an opportunity to study the baby psychology of young condors during the early months of their life.

They are usually born only in the higher Andes. Father Condor occupies himself with the baby's feeding, which he does in a truly masculine manner. When food is thrown into the cage, father first eats all he wants then gives the rest to Baby Condor.

Mansfield High Trackmen Meet Canton McKinley

Sport Podge by REX HESS

406 O'Neill Hall,
Wilberforce, O.

Dear Rex: I'm thanking you again for some of the fine things you have done for me. Because of you, my name is still on the lips of hundreds of persons.

You said at a football banquet once in Mansfield that we boys (the football players) gave you something to write about. Your statement only covered half of it, Rex, because by your writings and build-ups you gave us something to fight for besides our Alma Mater. We were fighting hard to live up to the names you had given us.

When I arrived at Wilberforce I was already well known so I had to live up to my reputation in football and track. Already I have earned my football letter and numerals, and now I expect to get a letter for being on the boxing team.

You see, every fellow down here has to box for a grade in physical education. And those fellows who look promising are selected for the team.

My first fight was with a boy from Dayton. I knocked him out in the beginning of the third round. Then coach signed me up with the boxing team. We went to Kentucky and I won by a decision.

* * *

The other night here at Wilberforce we had an intramural boxing match. Edward "Jap" Woodberry, who was on the track team with me at Mansfield, knocked out his boy in the second round.

I T.K.O'd my boy in the beginning of the second round. The boys and girls down here are calling us the "Fighting Collegians From Mansfield."

Down here I'm holder of the track team record for the 100 and 220 dashes and broad jump, and Woodberry has the quarter and half-mile marks. We have a track meet Saturday. Keep your fingers crossed.

I guess I've bored you long enough, but you can see we are doing alright for ourselves down here.

I can't express myself the way I'd like to, but thanks again for everything. I hope this is not my last letter to you. So long pal.

Your old column friend,
Elroy Hoot Lightning Jones.

* * *

P. S.—You didn't know I could box, did you?
P. P. S.—I didn't either!

Atta old boy, Hoot. Keep up the good work, and keep up the old left hand if you're going to keep on fighting.

You know, Hoot, I never helped you elude a tackler, or score a touchdown. And one thing I never helped you do was throw a left-handed pass half the length of the gridiron.

And I never helped you run the hundred or 220, or put the shot, or jump. If I gave you a little inspiration, that's fine. Harry the Merry Mehock says he'd like nothing better than to have you back here doing those things this spring.

And we're glad to hear that Jap is doing so well in his courses on the track and in the boxing ring.

Just tell him not to let his ring opponents start singing that radio song to him. You know the one.

Woodberry, Woodberry,
W-o-o-dberry,
For the chin you love to touch.

NBA Holds Open Lightweight Title

NEW YORK—(INS)—The National boxing association, in releasing its quarterly ratings today, revealed that it is keeping open the lightweight championship for the winner of a bout between Sammy Angott, Washington, Pa., and Beau Jack, Augusta, Ga., current holder of the New York commission 135-pound title.

Few changes have taken place since the last ratings, the most important is that affecting Sal Bartola, Boston, who moved up to a position near the top in the featherweight ranks by virtue of his split decision loss to Willie Pep. Pep, Hartford, Conn., is ranked leading contender for the title held by Jackie Calluara, of Ontario, Canada.

Shutout Verdicts Continue

Balata Ball Shows Allergy To Weather.

By LARRY SMITH

CLEVELAND — (AP) — It appeared today the final verdict on the 1943 official baseball with the balata core could not be rendered until after a period of warm, dry weather.

Members of the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers attended a clinical examination of the new ball before yesterday's game. A manufacturer's representative officiated as surgeon. He cut open a ball and found that the yarn which surrounds the cork and balata center was loosely wound and seemingly damp.

The discovery may indicate the new ball is more sensitive to weather changes than the old one, that it has absorbed dampness from the air and that dry, warm weather may make it livelier.

The reverberations continued from the office of Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds and National league representative on the committee which adopted specifications for the new ball. Giles' remarks indicate he may not wait for any change in the weather.

The Redleg official said the manufacturer admitted the new ball was 25 per cent deader than last year, blamed it on the substitute for rubber cement between the cover and yarn, and promised a remedy.

"If they don't we'll use our own make of baseball," Giles threatened. "I don't care if the league throws out every game we play. The present ball will kill the interest in baseball."

The Indians' series with the Detroit Tigers will be resumed tomorrow and concluded with a double header Sunday.

The Tribesmen were a party to a 4-0 shutout yesterday but this time they wound up on the zero end.

Virgil Trucks, the Tigers' speedy sophomore right hander, held the Redskins to four hits while his mates rapped Mel Harder and Pete Center for 11 blows.

It was a scoreless duel between Trucks and Harder for five innings but Detroit notched a run in the sixth to start the victory.

TEN INNING TILT

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Cincinnati Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals take a day off today to rest up from trying to hit the ball

Yesterday they played the Wednesday opener all over again and afterward General Manager Warren C. Giles of the Reds said he was going to hire himself as a pitcher if they had to keep using that 1-0 extra-inning ball.

That was yesterday's score in ten innings, with Ray Starr getting such credit as anyone will give for the Reds' second straight victory. He held the world champions to five hits.

The Reds and Cards both punched away here and there to get men on bases, and the Reds put on their characteristic ninth-inning scare. They filled the bases but that was all.

In the tenth Lonnie Frey singled, was sacrificed to second, and went to third on Max Marshall's single. Frank McCormick was purposely passed and Eddie Miller popped out, but Bert Haas singled the run in.

Elmer Riddle for the Reds and Harry Gumbert for the Cards are tomorrow's pitchers.

Wesleyan Holds Twelfth Relays

DELAWARE—(AP)—The "Wooden Trophy" 12th annual Ohio Wesleyan high school relays are scheduled Saturday, with more than 500 boys representing 37 schools participating.

George Gauthier, Wesleyan athletic director and founder of the team-play classic, predicted the entry list would climb to some extent, but would not approach the 1,100 figure of a year ago.

Included in the entry list are Cleveland East Tech, winner a year ago in Class A, and the Xenia O. S. & S. O. home, Class B victor the last three years.

Due to the scarcity of metal for trophies, this year's awards will be made of wood. Preliminaries will be run off Saturday morning with the finals in the afternoon.

BALL PLAYER DIES

HILLSBORO—(AP)—Kirby (Red Buck) White, one-time roommate of Honus Wagner and pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs, died here at 59. He also played with Kansas City and Indianapolis of the American Association and Lancaster of the Ohio State league.

Milt Galatzer, former Indian outfielder, is at Camp Davis (N. C.) anti-aircraft center learning how to field enemy planes with guns.

Filcher Fritz Clips Again

Goes on Rampage With Columnists' Paragraphs.

By FRITZ (FILCHER) HOWELL

COLUMBUS —(AP)— This looks like a "Good Friday" to rest up, so once again, with the aid of the office paste pot and scissors, we offer a copied right column of quips and punchy paragraphs swiped from Ohio's sports writers.

Just to show you how all great minds run in the same channel, 13 different and distinct scribes came up with variations of an observation that "New York's Yankee varsity may not win the American league pennant, but the Yankee subs are a cinch to win in the far Pacific."

Here are the snipped quips:

Joe Halberstein, Ohio State Lantern: Interest in the mixed swims has perked up considerably since last week when about 750 early copies of the Lantern hit the campus before this item was corrected: "Mixed swims will be held every Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9 in the natatorium. Suits will be furnished if wanted." (No comment!)

* * *

James E. Doyle, Cleveland Plain Dealer: The slug-bugs didn't see a knockout in the three-round exhibition between Veterans Johnny Kilbane and Matt Brock—it just wouldn't do to have silver threads among the goaled. (Just a publicity stunt; wasn't it, Jim?)

Paul Hornung, Columbus Dispatch: Notre Dame Tackle Sgismunt Czarabski narrowly escaped death in his high school days, the Irish publicity bureau informs us. According to their story, his tie became entangled in a meat grinder and the husky Chicago lad almose strangled before help came. However we suspect the truth of the matter is he tried to pronounce his own name without sufficient emotional preparation. (How can you beat those Notre Dames, when you can't even pronounce 'em?)

John R. Hanlon, Alliance Review: "Lippy Leo" Durocher, boss of Brooklyn's beloved Bums, probably won't be so warlike any more—now that he's been classified 4-F by the army. (We are in F-4-F, so we know how Lippy feels. That F-4-F, by the way, means "Father of a 4-F."

Pete Minego, Portsmouth Times: The dumbest rookie we've heard about was the youthful Buckeye who, when placed in 3-B by his draft board, squawked that he was a pitcher and had never played third base in his life. (That guy's a cinch for a job with the Dodgers.)

* * *

Jack Reid, Springfield News: The jackrabbit placed in the new Balata Special, wartime baseball, must have contracted tularemia. At least, it doesn't hop around like the old one. (Do you hear the pitchers objecting, Jack?)

Si Burick, Dayton News: Bill McKechnie's hair has turned from gray to white in a year. Worrying about the Reds' lack of hitting for five years hasn't helped him retain his youth, that's a cinch. The deacon is starting his sixth year as manager, and no other pilot in Cincinnati history has been with the club more than six years. (The limitation on administrations has been erased, Si, and we're for the deacon and a seventh term.)

Frank B. Ward, Youngstown Vindicator: Bucky Harris, manager of the Phils, says he can make Schoolboy Rowe pitch winning ball. That's the first time Harris ever claimed the powers of a magician. (Probably the Schoolboy, even with his lame arm, looks good to Harris when compared with the other Phutile Phils.)

* * *

Ben Netts, Springfield Sun: Eddie (Rochester) Anderson Jack Benny's ace-aid, has the real darkhorse entered in the Kentucky Derby, and for a darkhorse he's appropriately named—Burnt Cork. Rochester is wondering whether his agent, if Burnt Cork wins, will demand his 10 per cent out of the purse. (And that, Ben, is a $61,000 question.)

Thanks fellahs!

BUCKEYES LIFT LID ON DIAMOND SEASON

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Ohio State university's baseball team pryes the lid off the 1943 season today with Michigan State providing the opposition on the Ohio State campus. The two teams will meet again tomorrow.

Acting Coach Tippy Dye said Don Grate, Greenville freshman, would handle today's mound chores for the Buckeyes.

Ex-Cardinal Enos Slaughter is at Randolph Field, Tex., but as a cadet won't be eligible to play for the West Point of the Air in the San Antonio Service league schedule of 63 games.

Time Out---A Hero Relaxes

In between many personal appearances at war plants during his nation-wide tour, Sergt. Barney Ross of the U. S. Marines, hero of Guadalcanal and ex-lightweight and welterweight boxing champion, relaxes at a baseball game in Cleveland. At Barney's side is his pretty wife, who is accompanying him.

Commercial B-League Keglers Organize for Next Season

Comercial "B" league keglers closed another successful season last night with their annual banquet at Mansfield Liederkranz club, distributing prize money and electing officers for next season without even questioning whether there would be a next season.

Southpaw keglers representing Kent Rummel Coal company took down top money as league champions with a four-game margin over Jones Chris-Crafts.

Great Crowds Stay at Home

Baseball Stands Nearly As Dead as New Ball.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The 11 games that have been played in the new major league baseball season have convinced almost everybody the new balata ball is just that—a lot of balata—but the deadness of the ball has not alarmed as many persons as the deadly emptiness of the stands for the early games.

* * *

Unfavorable weather has been responsible in varying degrees and in certain instances, such as the tiny turnout of 5,860 fans in big Yankee stadium yesterday to see the American league champions edge out the Washington Senators, 5-4.

On the other hand it had nothing to do with the fact that only 1,897 persons went to Crosley Field in Cincinnati to see another pitching classic in which the Reds again whipped the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0 in ten innings.

The small attendance goes deeper than the weather. Many thousands of baseball fans are now in military service and countless others are too busy in war work to get to games on weekday afternoons. The major leagues may have to play more night games and possibly will experiment with morning contests.

The Brooklyn Dodgers meanwhile thrashed the New York Giants, 5-2, in their getaway before 16,775 fans at Ebbets Field. Ed Head pitched six-hit ball and his teammates got him four runs in the first three innings. The Giants' manager, Mel Ott, made four hits and batted in both runs.

The Chicago Cubs turned the tables on the Pittsburgh Pirates with a 4-3 triumph. A long fly by Phil Cavarretta with the bases loaded in the seventh was needed to break a tie score although Claude Passeau and Eddie Hanyzewski held the Pirates to five hits.

At New York Joe Gordon came through with the first home run of the major league season, but it took a double by Roy (Stormy) Weatherly with the bases loaded in the last of the ninth to bring the Yankees from behind and subdue the Senators. The Yanks were outhit 8-6.

Tex Hughson, 22-game winner last year, chalked up victory No. 1 by shutting out the Philadelphia Athletics, 1-0, on three hits, but the once ferocious Red Sockers were held to two hits themselves by Jesse Flores and Roger Wolff.

Virgil Trucks pitched a 4-0 four-hit shutout for Detroit against the Cleveland Indians to avenge the Tigers' opening day whitewashing.

New Honors for Sgt. Barney Ross

CHICAGO —(INS)— New honors awaited Marine Sergt. Barney Ross, former world champion lightweight, junior welterweight boxing champion, on his arrival in Chicago today.

Ross, who was promoted to corporal on the battlefield of Guadalcanal and advanced to sergeant while recovering from a recurrence of malaria in an eastern hospital, was due in Chicago from Cleveland on his war plant speaking tour. He is being accompanied by his wife, Catherine.

* * *

A character medallion was to be presented to Ross by Maj. John L. Griffith, western conference commission at the Rotary club luncheon. Aside from his war plant speaking engagements, Ross also will be honored in boxing and baseball circles.

Tygers Battle Bulldogs

Favored In Meet as Visitors Open Season.

ONE of Mansfield high school's biggest sport rivalries carries over into the track season when Canton McKinley's Bulldogs invade Stadium Field for a meet at 2 p. m. Saturday.

For the Bulldogs it will be the first meet of the season as they cancelled a meet with Akron Garfield last week because of weather conditions, and one with Akron South this week when their coach, Chuck Wright, was called suddenly to Colorado by the critical illness of his mother.

Wright has not yet returned, but the Canton Repository reports the Bulldogs will keep the Mansfield engagement with an assistant coach in charge.

McKinley's wealth of athletic material, which carried the Bulldogs through a successful football season and a victory over Massillon, and also to the finals of the state basketball tournament, is split up for spring sports, with many of the better athletes taking to the baseball field.

Since the Bulldogs have yet to make their first start, little is known of their track prospects, but their chief star is expected to be Ernie Parks, giant colored boy who played an important role in their football and basketball victories.

Mansfield Tygers, with three meets already under their belts, two victories and a close defeat, will be favored to win, but hardly by the big margin they piled up last week against Lorain.

* * *

Coach Harry Mehock is still waiting for a warm day and a fast track to see how fast his speedsters can go. The three meets thus far have hardly had ideal weather conditions, and while the Tygers have been taking their share of the speed events, the times recorded have not been sensational.

GALION GETS U. S. FUNDS TO AID NURSERY

City Receives $9,500 Grant To Finance Project For Children.

GALION—That Galion will be able to operate two Nursery schools in addition to the care of school-age children of working mothers, was indicated today in a telegram received by the Galion board of education from Senator Harold H. Burton.

The message stated that the Lanham Act application made by the Galion board of education has been favorably acted upon by the federal government, and that Gal- ion schools will receive enough money to carry on two Nursery schools to care for school-age chil- dren of working mothers.

Funds for these projects amounts to $18,185, the govern- ment's share to be $9,505. The remainder of the amount is to be received locally and will be com- prised largely of fees that will be charged parents, a small amount per week, for the purpose of pro- viding food for the children.

M. A. Povenmire, superintendent of schools, said today that develop- ment of this program here, de- pends upon the needs of the com- munity.

The program will operate under the supervision of the Board of Education and the Child Welfare committee of the Civilian Defense council.

For a number of years, the present Galion Nursery school which is located in a specially built and equipped room in the new East school, has been a WPA pro- ject. It was set up primarily to give special care to the children of the lower income bracket but later enrollment included children of working mothers.

Mansfield High Trackmen Meet Canton McKinley

Sport Podge by REX HESS

406 O'Neill Hall,
Wilberforce, O.

Dear Rex: I'm thanking you again for some of the fine things you have done for me. Because of you, my name is still on the lips of hundreds of persons.

You said at a football banquet once in Mansfield that we boys (the football players) gave you something to write about. Your statement only covered half of it, Rex, because by your writings and build-ups you gave us something to fight for besides our Alma Mater. We were fighting hard to live up to the names you had given us.

When I arrived at Wilberforce I was already well known so I had to live up to my reputation in football and track. Already I have earned my football letter and numerals, and now I expect to get a letter for being on the boxing team.

You see, every fellow down here has to box for a grade in physical education. And those fellows who look promising are selected for the team.

My first fight was with a boy from Dayton. I knocked him out in the beginning of the third round. Then coach signed me up with the boxing team. We went to Kentucky and I won by a decision.

* * *

The other night here at Wilberforce we had an intramural boxing match. Edward "Jap" Woodberry, who was on the track team with me at Mansfield, knocked out his boy in the second round.

I T.K.O'd my boy in the beginning of the second round. The boys and girls down here are calling us the "Fighting Collegians From Mansfield."

Down here I'm holder of the track team record for the 100 and 220 dashes and broad jump, and Woodberry has the quarter and half-mile marks. We have a track meet Saturday. Keep your fingers crossed.

I guess I've bored you long enough, but you can see we are doing alright for ourselves down here.

I can't express myself the way I'd like to, but thanks again for everything. I hope this is not my last letter to you. So long pal.

Your old column friend,
Elroy Hoot Lightning Jones.

* * *

P. S.—You didn't know I could box, did you?
P. P. S.—I didn't either!

Atta old boy, Hoot. Keep up the good work, and keep up the old left hand if you're going to keep on fighting.

You know, Hoot, I never helped you elude a tackler, or score a touchdown. And one thing I never helped you do was throw a left-handed pass half the length of the gridiron.

And I never helped you run the hundred or 220, or put the shot, or jump. If I gave you a little inspiration, that's fine. Harry the Merry Mehock says he'd like nothing better than to have you back here doing those things this spring.

And we're glad to hear that Jap is doing so well in his courses on the track and in the boxing ring.

Just tell him not to let his ring opponents start singing that radio song to him. You know the one.

NBA Holds Open Lightweight Title

NEW YORK—(INS)—The National boxing association, in releasing its quarterly ratings today, revealed that it is keeping open the lightweight championship for the winner of a bout between Sammy Angott, Washington, Pa., and Beau Jack, Augusta, Ga., current holder of the New York commission 135-pound title.

Few changes have taken place since the last ratings, the most important is that affecting Sal Bartola, Boston, who moved up to a position near the top in the featherweight ranks by virtue of his split decision loss to Willie Pep. Pep, Hartford, Conn., is ranked leading contender for the title held by Jackie Calluara, of Ontario, Canada.

Balata Ball Shows Allergy To Weather.

By LARRY SMITH

CLEVELAND — (AP) — It appeared today the final verdict on the 1943 official baseball with the balata core could not be rendered until after a period of warm, dry weather.

Members of the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers attended a clinical examination of the new ball before yesterday's game. A manufacturer's representative officiated as surgeon. He cut open a ball and found that the yarn which surrounds the cork and balata center was loosely wound and seemingly damp.

The discovery may indicate the new ball is more sensitive to weather changes than the old one, that it has absorbed dampness from the air and that dry, warm weather may make it livelier.

The reverberations continued from the office of Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds and National league representative on the committee which adopted specifications for the new ball. Giles' remarks indicate he may not wait for any change in the weather.

The Redleg official said the manufacturer admitted the new ball was 25 per cent deader than last year, blamed it on the substitute for rubber cement between the cover and yarn, and promised a remedy.

"If they don't we'll use our own make of baseball," Giles threatened. "I don't care if the league throws out every game we play. The present ball will kill the interest in baseball."

The Indians' series with the Detroit Tigers will be resumed tomorrow and concluded with a double header Sunday.

The Tribesmen were a party to a 4-0 shutout yesterday but this time they wound up on the zero end.

Virgil Trucks, the Tigers' speedy sophomore right hander, held the Redskins to four hits while his mates rapped Mel Harder and Pete Center for 11 blows.

It was a scoreless duel between Trucks and Harder for five innings but Detroit notched a run in the sixth to start the victory.

TEN INNING TILT

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Cincinnati Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals take a day off today to rest up from trying to hit the ball.

Yesterday they played the Wednesday opener all over again and afterward General Manager Warren C. Giles of the Reds said he was going to hire himself as a pitcher if they had to keep using that 1-0 extra-inning ball.

That was yesterday's score in ten innings, with Ray Starr getting such credit as anyone will give for the Reds' second straight victory. He held the world champions to five hits.

The Reds and Cards both punched away here and there to get men on bases, and the Reds put on their characteristic ninth-inning scare. They filled the bases but that was all.

In the tenth Lonnie Frey singled, was sacrificed to second, and went to third on Max Marshall's single. Frank McCormick was purposely passed and Eddie Miller popped out, but Bert Haas singled the run in.

Elmer Riddle for the Reds and Harry Gumbert for the Cards are tomorrow's pitchers.

Wesleyan Holds Twelfth Relays

DELAWARE —(AP)—The "Wooden Trophy" 12th annual Ohio Wesleyan high school relays are scheduled Saturday, with more than 500 boys representing 37 schools participating.

George Gauthier, Wesleyan athletic director and founder of the team-play classic, predicted the entry list would climb to some extent, but would not approach the 1,100 figure of a year ago.

Included in the entry list are Cleveland East Tech, winner a year ago in Class A and the Xenia O. S. & S. O. home, Class B victor the last three years.

Due to the scarcity of metal for trophies, this year's awards will be made of wood. Preliminaries will be run off Saturday morning with the finals in the afternoon.

BALL PLAYER DIES

HILLSBORO —(AP)—Kirby (Red Buck) White, one-time roommate of Honus Wagner and pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs, died here at 59. He also played with Kansas City and Indianapolis of the American Association and Lancaster of the Ohio State league.

Milt Galatzer, former Indian outfielder, is at Camp Davis (N. C.) anti-aircraft center learning how to field enemy planes with guns.

SHELBY WHIPPETS DEFEAT PLYMOUTH

SHELBY — Shelby defeated Plymouth, 7 to 1, in the opening baseball game for the Whippets Thursday on the Plymouth diamond.

Starting the game as pitcher for the Whippets was Bobby Perman. The Whippet pitching staff succeeded in getting a no hit game.

Filcher Fritz Clips Again

Goes on Rampage With Columnists' Paragraphs.

By FRITZ (FILCHER) HOWELL

COLUMBUS —(AP)— This looks like a "Good Friday" to rest up, so once again, with the aid of the office paste pot and scissors, we offer a copied right column of quips and punchy paragraphs swiped from Ohio's sports writers.

Just to show you how all great minds run in the same channel, 13 different and distinct scribes came up with variations of an observation that "New York's Yankee varsity may not win the American league pennant, but the Yankee subs are a cinch to win in the far Pacific."

Here are the snipped quips:

Joe Halberstein, Ohio State Lantern: Interest in the mixed swims has perked up considerably since last week when about 750 early copies of the Lantern hit the campus before this item was corrected: "Mixed swims will be held every Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9 in the natatorium. Suits will be furnished if wanted." (No comment!)

* * *

James E. Doyle, Cleveland Plain Dealer: The slug-bugs didn't see a knockout in the three-round exhibition between Veterans Johnny Kilbane and Matt Brock—it just wouldn't do to have silver threads among the goaled. (Just a publicity stunt; wasn't it, Jim?)

Paul Hornung, Columbus Dispatch: Notre Dame Tackle Sgismunt Czarabski narrowly escaped death in his high school days, the Irish publicity bureau informs us. According to their story, his tie became entangled in a meat grinder and the husky Chicago lad almose strangled before help came. However we suspect the truth of the matter is he tried to pronounce his own name without sufficient emotional preparation. (How can you beat those Notre Dames, when you can't even pronounce 'em?)

John R. Hanlon, Alliance Review: "Lippy Leo" Durocher, boss of Brooklyn's beloved Bums, probably won't be so warlike any more—now that he's been classified 4-F by the army. (We are in F-4-F, so we know how Lippy feels. That F-4-F, by the way, means "Father of a 4-F."

Pete Minego, Portsmouth Times: The dumbest rookie we've heard about was the youthful Buckeye who, when placed in 3-B by his draft board, squawked that he was a pitcher and had never played third base in his life. (That guy's a cinch for a job with the Dodgers.)

* * *

Jack Reid, Springfield News: The jackrabbit placed in the new Balata Special, wartime baseball, must have contracted tularemia. At least, it doesn't hop around like the old one. (Do you hear the pitchers objecting, Jack?)

Si Burick, Dayton News: Bill McKechnie's hair has turned from gray to white in a year. Worrying about the Reds' lack of hitting for five years hasn't helped him retain his youth, that's a cinch. The deacon is starting his sixth year as manager, and no other pilot in Cincinnati history has been with the club more than six years. (The limitation on administrations has been erased, Si, and we're for the deacon and a seventh term.)

Frank B. Ward, Youngstown Vindicator: Bucky Harris, manager of the Phils, says he can make Schoolboy Rowe pitch winning ball. That's the first time Harris ever claimed the powers of a magician. (Probably the Schoolboy, even with his lame arm, looks good to Harris when compared with the other Phutile Phils.)

* * *

Ben Netts, Springfield Sun: Eddie (Rochester) Anderson, Jack Benny's ace-aid, has the real darkhorse entered in the Kentucky Derby, and for a darkhorse he's appropriately named—Burnt Cork. Rochester is wondering whether his agent, if Burnt Cork wins, will demand his 10 per cent out of the purse. (And that, Ben, is a $61,000 question.)

Thanks fellahs!

BUCKEYES LIFT LID ON DIAMOND SEASON

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Ohio State university's baseball team pryes the lid off the 1943 season today with Michigan State providing the opposition on the Ohio State campus. The two teams will meet again tomorrow.

Acting Coach Tippy Dye said Don Grate, Greenville freshman, would handle today's mound chores for the Buckeyes.

Ex-Cardinal Enos Slaughter is at Randolph Field, Tex., but as a cadet won't be eligible to play for the West Point of the Air in the San Antonio Service league schedule of 63 games.

Time Out---A Hero Relaxes

In between many personal appearances at war plants during his nation-wide tour, Sergt. Barney Ross of the U. S. Marines, hero of Guadalcanal and ex-lightweight and welterweight boxing champion, relaxes at a baseball game in Cleveland. At Barney's side is his pretty wife, who is accompanying him.

Great Crowds Stay at Home

Baseball Stands Nearly As Dead as New Ball.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The 11 games that have been played in the new major league baseball season have convinced almost everybody the new balata ball is just that—a lot of balata—but the deadness of the ball has not alarmed as many persons as the deadly emptiness of the stands for the early games.

* * *

Unfavorable weather has been responsible in varying degrees and in certain instances, such as the tiny turnout of 5,860 fans in big Yankee stadium yesterday to see the American league champions edge out the Washington Senators, 5-4.

On the other hand it had nothing to do with the fact that only 1,897 persons went to Crosley Field in Cincinnati to see another pitching classic in which the Reds again whipped the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0 in ten innings.

The small attendance goes deeper than the weather. Many thousands of baseball fans are now in military service and countless others are too busy in war work to get to games on weekday afternoons. The major leagues may have to play more night games and possibly will experiment with morning contests.

The Brooklyn Dodgers meanwhile thrashed the New York Giants, 5-2, in their getaway before 16,775 fans at Ebbets Field. Ed Head pitched six-hit ball and his teammates got him four runs in the first three innings. The Giants' manager, Mel Ott, made four hits and batted in both runs.

The Chicago Cubs turned the tables on the Pittsburgh Pirates with a 4-3 triumph. A long fly by Phil Cavarretta with the bases loaded in the seventh was needed to break a tie score although Claude Passeau and Eddie Hanyzewski held the Pirates to five hits.

At New York Joe Gordon came through with the first home run of the major league season, but it took a double by Roy (Stormy) Weatherly with the bases loaded in the last of the ninth to bring the Yankees from behind and subdue the Senators. The Yanks were outhit 8-6.

Tex Hughson, 22-game winner last year, chalked up victory No. 1 by shutting out the Philadelphia Athletics, 1-0, on three hits, but the once ferocious Red Sockers were held to two hits themselves by Jesse Flores and Roger Wolff.

Virgil Trucks pitched a 4-0 four-hit shutout for Detroit against the Cleveland Indians to avenge the Tigers' opening day whitewashing.

Tygers Battle Bulldogs

Favored In Meet as Visitors Open Season.

ONE of Mansfield high school's biggest sport rivalries carries over into the track season when Canton McKinley's Bulldogs invade Stadium Field for a meet at 2 p. m. Saturday.

For the Bulldogs it will be the first meet of the season as they cancelled a meet with Akron Garfield last week because of weather conditions, and one with Akron South this week when their coach, Chuck Wright, was called suddenly to Colorado by the critical illness of his mother.

Wright has not yet returned, but the Canton Repository reports the Bulldogs will keep the Mansfield engagement with an assistant coach in charge.

McKinley's wealth of athletic material, which carried the Bulldogs through a successful football season and a victory over Massillon, and also to the finals of the state basketball tournament, is split up for spring sports, with many of the better athletes taking to the baseball field.

Since the Bulldogs have yet to make their first start, little is known of their track prospects, but their chief star is expected to be Ernie Parks, giant colored boy who played an important role in their football and basketball victories.

Mansfield Tygers, with three meets already under their belts, two victories and a close defeat, will be favored to win, but hardly by the big margin they piled up last week against Lorain.

* * *

Coach Harry Mehock is still waiting for a warm day and a fast track to see how fast his speedsters can go. The three meets thus far have hardly had ideal weather conditions, and while the Tygers have been taking their share of the speed events, the times recorded have not been sensational.

GALION GETS U. S. FUNDS TO AID NURSERY

City Receives $9,500 Grant To Finance Project For Children.

GALION—That Galion will be able to operate two Nursery schools in addition to the care of school-age children of working mothers, was indicated today in a telegram received by the Galion board of education from Senator Harold H. Burton.

The message stated that the Lanham Act application made by the Galion board of education has been favorably acted upon by the federal government, and that Galion schools will receive enough money to carry on two Nursery schools to care for school-age children of working mothers.

Funds for these projects amounts to $18,185, the government's share to be $9,505. The remainder of the amount is to be received locally and will be comprised largely of fees that will be charged parents, a small amount per week, for the purpose of providing food for the children.

M. A. Povenmire, superintendent of schools, said today that development of this program here, depends upon the needs of the community.

The program will operate under the supervision of the Board of Education and the Child Welfare committee of the Civilian Defense council.

For a number of years, the present Galion Nursery school which is located in a specially built and equipped room in the new East school, has been a WPA project. It was set up primarily to give special care to the children of the lower income bracket but later enrollment included children of working mothers.

Considered one of the most worthwhile projects in Galion, the school has through the years that it has operated received the support of clubs, lodges, and various civic organizations.

LABOR IRKED BY NO-RAISE RULE

WMC Sees Revolt Based on Pay Rather Than Freeze Limitations of FDR.

WMC Chief Paul V. McNutt to implement the president's directive.

Fowler W. Harper, WMC deputy chairman, disclosed that a meeting will be held in Washington tomorrow with representatives of the CIO's United Automobile Workers union which condemned the McNutt regulations as "undemocratic" and instructed its members to resign from area and regional WMC management-labor committees.

Harper expressed the hope that an "understanding" could be reached and the powerful UAW, an organization of over 900,000 members with its principal strength in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, persuaded to continue participation in the government's voluntary labor stabilization program.

Mr. Roosevelt's recent "hold-the-line" order withdrew from the war labor board the authority to grant wage increases in cases of "inequities" or, in other words, to adjust wages which are below prevailing scales in an area. WLB was left only with power to grant increases within the "little steel formula" or in cases of "substandard" pay rates.

WMC officials pointed out that the latter provision was of little benefit to organized labor since there is little union strength in so-called "substandard" wage fields. The wages wouldn't be substandard if the workers were members of a labor organization, it was explained.

The authority to correct wage "inequities" was reserved by the president to economic stabilization Director James F. Byrnes, who has indicated firmly that he will "hold-the-line." WLB has ordered cancellation of some 10,000 wage increase cases put before it on grounds of "inequities."

WMC officials said, however, that there could be no "backdown" on the president's order.

BRITISH GAIN ON SOUTH AND WEST FRONTS

Push Nazis Back Slowly as Allies Shoot Down 20 Big Nazi Transports.

bombs bursting on the targets selected, the communique said.

At attack by light British naval forces on Axis torpedo boats off Bizerte, announced yesterday, was regarded as a warning to Rommel that the navy was ready should he attempt to evacuate his forces from Tunisia in the Dunkerque manner.

The Allies face the task of driving the Nazis off their mountain lines with bitter infantry attacks. These mountain attacks seem certain to be slow and tedious with the Germans fighting for every inch of the ground, but there is a possibility that the enemy line may be breached in a sudden thrust.

This would permit the overwhelming Allied armor to reach the plain leading to Tunis and, if successfully followed up, would cut the Nazi forces in half.

If such a break-through is not achieved, the bitter Tunisian fighting may go on for weeks as Rommel battles right down to the beaches.

Although the main fighting recently has been done by the First and Eighth armies, United States and French troops were reported making active and penetrating patrols on the section of the front assigned to them.

Reinforced Nazis Fail to Dent Lines

MOSCOW —(AP)— The Germans hourly have reinforced their land armies in the Kuban and have shifted hundreds of their bomber and fighter planes into the Crimea for use in the north Caucasian battles, but despite incessant attacks by these new forces the Germans have failed to dent the Russian lines, it was declared today.

Red Star, the army newspaper, said the Nazis were employing numerous Rumanian troops and that during the last few days had forced them to spearhead the assaults which are costing them hundreds of dead.

The noon communique told of 500 of the enemy slaughtered in two Kuban sectors alone in the last 12 hours, bringing the toll for the last 20 hours well above 800.

North of Chuguev, on the Donets river, a group of Germans attempted to cross to the eastern bank but Soviet gunfire mowed them down at the water's edge.

Wreck 63 Nazi Planes In Bremen Raid

LONDON — (U.P.) — American heavy bombers destroyed 63 German planes in their unescorted raid on Bremen last Saturday, the Eighth United States Air Force announced today.

Sixteen Flying Fortresses were lost in the Bremen raid, more than double the number of American heavy bombers lost in any previous attack on the continent.

Yugoslavs Fight Full-Scale War

BERN, Switzerland - (AP) The unconquered guerrilla army of Yugoslavia, reinforced with airplanes, tanks and armored trains, is waging full-scale war against Axis troops in rugged upland terrain adjoining the Adriatic, according to a dispatch from Budapest.

Quoting a Zagreb report to the newspaper "Magyar Nemzet," the dispatch declared "veritable war" is under way in the Bosnia and Hercegovina sectors of western Serbia. Strong Axis operations against the guerrilla forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovic are "necessary to safeguard this bastion of the continent against possible Allied invasion," the report added.

The size of the operations was indicated by an Italian admission that in that area last month 1,659 Italians were killed or wounded and another 1,862 were missing German forces are engaged too but there has been no announcement of losses.

TOLEDOANS GET RABIES WARNING

44 Persons Treated for Prevention of Disease.

TOLEDO—(AP)— Health authorities warned today that a dog afflicted with rabies was loose in Toledo after treating 44 persons for prevention of the disease.

The 44 persons reported for treatments and told officials they had been bitten by dogs within the past few days. Many of the victims were believed to have been bitten by different animals.

ASHTABULA —(U.P.) A 60-day quarantine for all dogs in Ashtabula county was placed in effect today and dogs roaming at large either licensed or unlicensed will be impounded.

TRAPS FIREMEN

Blaze Causes $100,000 Damage At Port Huron, Mich.

PORT HURON, Mich. — (AP) — One volunteer fire fighter was fatally trapped and at least 18 other persons were hospitalized when a $100,000 fire swept the downtown White block early today.

The missing man was David B. Colgan, 17, a Port Huron private in the Michigan state troops who was trapped in debris after the collapse of a floor.

SCRAMBLES FOR BIGGER ARMY

Hitler Tries To Round Up Half Million Men From Among Satellites.

it was said, but Antonescu and Horthy reportedly feared lack of home support and tried to get Hitler to reduce their obligations to Germany.

(A broadcast in English, recorded by the United Press in New York, labeled as "false" any idea that Germany was on the defensive. The preparations against invasion, it said, "must be viewed on the basis of their offensive character.")

Hints Hitler Saves First String Men

WASHINGTON— (U.P.)— National Commander Roane Waring of the American Legion suggests that Germany may be sending more sub-standard troops to the African and Russian fronts to conserve the best manpower divisions for the coming battle of Europe.

Reporting on his recent tour of the North African battlefront, Waring told an audience of Legionnaires and their guests last night that prisoners taken from the Northern Tunisian German army, unlike Rommel's men, are not so physically fit.

"Many of them are still in their teens," he said. "They show lack of sufficient training."

After mentioning that the Germans were reported to be using on the Russian front an increasing number of older men who have passed their physical primes, he added:

"It is quite possible, perhaps even probable, that far from having exhausted herself, Germany has merely been expanding her substandard manpower on the African and some portions of the Russian fronts, and had been conserving her best manpower division for the battle of Europe."

For that reason, he said, he was deeply concerned over the feeling of the average citizen that "our victory in this war is all wrapped up and ready to be delivered."

DEMS COOLING ON TAX PLAN

Administration's 50 Per Cent Forgiveness Bill Fails To Hold Support.

the battle when the house returns from an Easter recess. The recess was agreed to by the Republican leaders after Democratic Leader John McCormack of Massachusetts assured them the pay-as-you-go bill would be made the first order of business May 3.

The Democratic plan was introduced in bill form last night by ways and means Chairman Robert L. Doughton, (D., N.C.) It provides:

1 Adoption of pay-as-you-go taxation in 1943 and subsequent years through a 20 per cent withholding at the source on wages and salaries to begin July 1.

2 Forgiveness of "the approximate difference" between the 1942 tax, and the tax computed at 1911 rates and exemptions.

3. Amortization of the unforgiven part of the 1942 liability over a period of three years.

4. A discount of 10 per cent for persons who pay up their unforgiven 1942 taxes by March 15, 1944, and six per cent for those who pay before March 15, 1945.

Doughton contends that this plan would provide 50 per cent forgiveness. The Republicans rejected it during bipartisan compromise conferences on the ground that it would place a "crushing burden on millions of taxpayers in the lower income brackets by making them double up their tax payments.

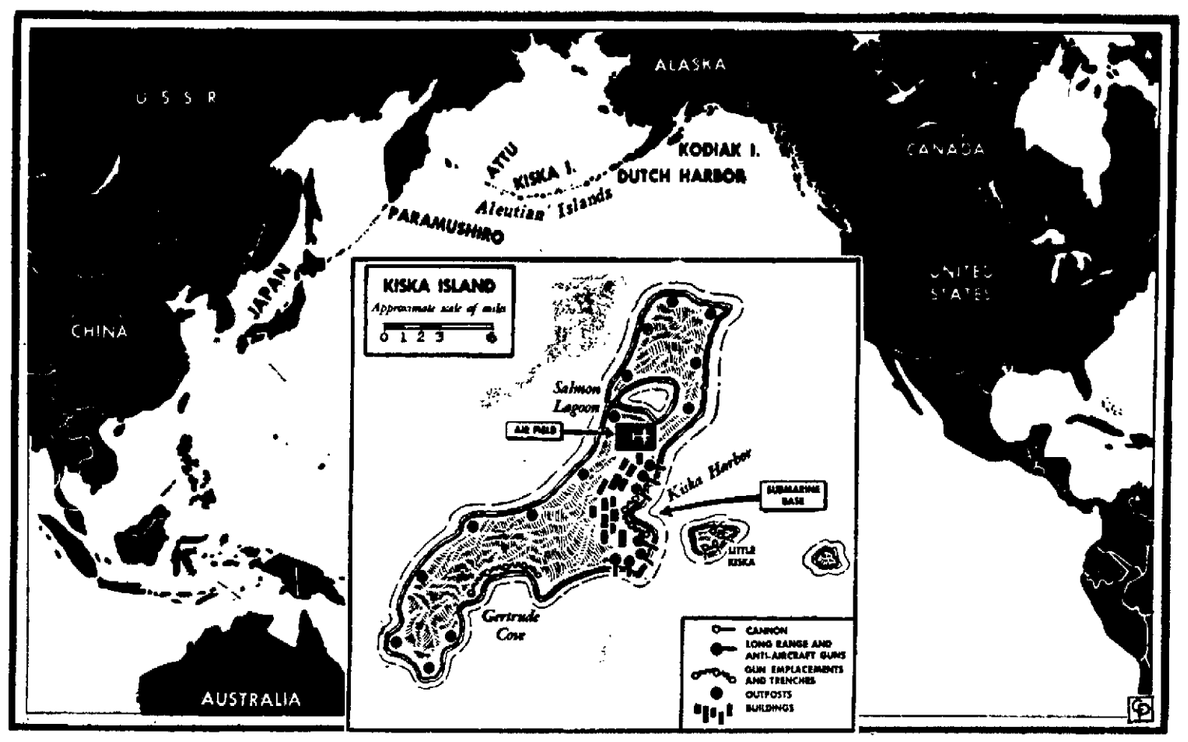
REAL TRIBUTE

City Buys $1,000,000 in War Bonds in Day.

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — A feverish buying spree paid tribute yesterday to Oklahoma pioneers and slapped the Japs for killing American airmen.

The city's 244,000 residents bought $10,000,000 worth of war bonds in a single day—the 54th anniversary of the historic run of '89, when the territory was opened to white settlement.

Kiska, Island Fortress, Becoming Offensive Threat to Yanks



Occupied by the Japs last June, the island of Kiska in the Aleutians rapidly is becoming a possible base for Jap offensive operations. Airfields there and on Attu, to the west, are nearing completion. Defense, shown clearly on this map, reveal how difficult occupation of the island will be by American forces. Proximity of the major enemy naval base at Paramushiro would give the Japs reinforcements for offensive operations against the American bases scattered through the Aleutian islands.

2,000 MINERS GO ON STRIKE

Leave Soft Coal Mines; Union Leader Blames Unrest Among Workers.

Isabella mine of the Weirton Coal company, a National Steel corporation subsidiary, the vice presidents of two West Virginia districts, William Blizzard of Charleston (17) district and Cecil J. Urbanlak of Fairmont (31), said flatly the miners would not work after April 30 without a new contract.

The company said the men made no explanation of the Isabella walkout while a union spokesman said the stoppage, which followed by a few hours Secretary of Labor Perkins' certification of the wage dispute to the WLB, developed from the transfer of three men.

Yablonsky's reference to the WLB echoed a charge by UMW President John L. Lewis, early in the current New York contract negotiations that Chairman William H. Davis "has a long knife out waiting for the union.

Yablonski said the first 500 miners to strike had voted to do so, but the other walkouts were "just flareups" and unauthorized.

"We are doing all we can to get the men back to work and to keep this thing from spreading," he said.

1,800 Quit Work at Company Mines

PITTSBURGH—(INS)— The flow of coal from four Monongahela Valley mines was shut off today by a strike of 1,800 men in protest against a contract offered to 20 "strip miners" with a clause specifying that the pact was "subject to approval by the war labor board."

A spokesman for Republic Steel corporation, which owns and operates the mines, said production losses amounted to 9,000 tons of coal per day. Mines shut down were the Crescent No. 2, near Charleroi; the Clyde, No. 1 at Fredericktown; the Clyde No. 3 at Clarksville, and the "strip" operation itself.

Federal Labor Conciliator Wilbam Ashe was expected to intervene in the dispute shortly, while UMW District No. 5 President John P. Buserello deserted the soft coal negotiations in New York to hurry home and seek a settlement.

Ewing Bell, president of UMWA local No. 2, said that beside the contract stipulation, the union understood the "strip" miners were underpaid, and that additionally, the corporation had hired a non-union man to operate a steam-shovel.

15,000 Halt Work On War Materials

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) Production of vital war material at all three Windsor plants of the Ford Motor company of Canada was halted completely today by a dispute between the company and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) over an alleged "speed-up" order.

The stoppage involved approximately 15,000 workers on three shifts. The company, Canada's largest producer of war materials, said it started when workers reportedly conducted a "sit-down" strike yesterday. The union insisted their members were locked out.

Roy England, president of Local 200 of the UAW-CIO, said day shift workers tried to resume work today but found the gates at the company's main plant — No. 2 — locked and returned to their homes. He said workers at Plants 1 and 4 gates of which were open, were ordered by the union to return to their homes.

"They can't lock us out of one plant and expect our men to work in the others," England said. "Anyway, it's not in the best interests of efficient production."

FACE STRIKE

Six Biggest Cincinnati Hotels Near Tie-Up.

CINCINNATI — (U.P.) — Cincinnati's six largest hotels were faced with an imminent strike today following authorization of a walkout by 1,400 members of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers union (AFL).

Union officials announced that employes had voted unanimously to strike to force the review division of the War Labor board to reach a speedy decision on demands for a higher wage increase than that awarded recently by the WLB.

STANDS PAT ON RELIEF PROBE

Mayor Says He Asked State 3 Months Ago to Investigate Administration Cost.

lief status recently or asked for a conference with them on reducing costs.

Mayor Locke said earlier this week, before he learned of the county's move, that he believed relief administration costs were too high, considering the downward trend in the number of relief cases. He presented figures to support his statement. The caseload for March this year was less than half of that for March, 1942, while administration costs were slightly higher last month than in March last year.

The mayor added that he did not accuse county commissioners of improper administration of relief, but he wanted to have the relief figures before him to determine whether it would be possible to reduce the costs.

County Commissioner Ray Hout yesterday offered to give the administration of relief back to the city, adding that "it's been a headache for us ever since we took it over."

The county is in charge of relief administration with the city and county sharing the cost.

Scheduled to meet with the mayor Monday are Mrs Marian Brucker, welfare department investigator, and Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff.

B, C CARS MUST SHARE RIDES

Ruling Says Those Getting Extra Gas Required To Carry Extra Workers.

up in Mansfield Tuesday and registration of car owners and persons seeking rides is under way.

Supplement gas may be allocated without share-ride requirements in special cases where it is impossible for the car owner to arrange to transport other persons to work, it was said.

OCD block leaders were asked by the state civilian defense office to conduct surveys in their communities to determine whether "B" and "C" card holders are sharing their cars with others. Details of the survey, however, have not been worked out, said Mrs. John Pierce, executive secretary of the OCD war services division at the city building.

"We have already checked industrial workers and car owners throughout the city, and I'm not certain whether we will be required to make a re-check," Mrs. Pierce said.

C. C. Beelman, county rationing board chairman, said workers in at least 14 Mansfield industrial plants are being helped to form car clubs, enabling employes to get to their jobs with less gasoline and fewer tires.

Three OPA representatives from the Cleveland area office were in Mansfield yesterday to instruct county ration officials in the enforcement of OPA regulations. Meeting with panel officials at ration headquarters were Emery Clineman, head of the area shoe rationing set-up; Frank Sunning, director of the fuel oil division, and John Rogers, chairman of the legal division.

WILL RIP JAP ISLAND AGAIN

U. S. Fliers Plan To Go Back For Revenge Soon, Says Maj. Gen. Doolittle.

Our job is utterly and completely to defeat the Japanese nation and everything her war lords stand for. This can only be accomplished by striking at the heart of Japan itself. We started it a year ago.

"Soon our bombers will be there again. Not like last year's limited effort but a devastating attack that will continue until the Japanese empire crumbles and they beg for mercy."

Japs Say U. S. Fliers All Had 'Trials'

TOKYO —(By Official Japanese Wireless) —(INS)— The Japanese government today branded as "absurd and groundless" all contentions that enemy prisoners captured in uniform should be given special consideration.

Finally admitting receipt of a United States government protest against execution of some of the American fliers who bombed Tokyo a year ago, the Japanese bureau of information reiterated its claim they had "wantonly committed inhuman acts."

"All of the captured fliers," a statement said, "were tried by court martial and sentenced to death when their guilt had been clearly proved. Most of them, however had the death sentence reconsidered and only part of them were executed."

(Editor's Note: The Japanese allegation that Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's fliers purposely bombed hospitals, schools and other non-military objectives have been completely blasted by first-hand reports by the participants. These disclosed they even passed up such legitimate objectives as an aircraft carrier sighted in Tokyo bay, concentrating all their efforts against targets selected for them weeks before the raid took place. Photographs published in the Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri show definitely the American planes flew so low no objective could possibly have been mistaken.)

Aerial Blows Hit Japs In Far Pacific

(By Associated Press)

Maj.-Gen. James H. Doolittle's prediction that American fliers will bomb Japan again "soon" was followed today by news of widespread aerial blows against Japanese forces in the southwest Pacific and in Burma.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said United Nations airmen raided half a dozen enemy bases in the arc of islands above Australia, concentrating on the region of Nassau Bay in northern New Guinea.

Allied bombers inflicted heavy damage on already depleted Japanese supplies and equipment in the area, it was announced.

Enemy forces in the area were described as beset by lack of food and medicine, with many troops ill and hungry.

At Allied headquarters in North Africa, Maj.-Gen Doolittle declared that when U. S. fliers hit Tokyo again it would be "a devastating attack that will continue until the Japanese empire crumbles and they beg for mercy."

In Washington, the war department said new raids on Tokyo were a decided possibility.

On the Burma front, British headquarters reported Allied bombers renewed the assault on Rangoon, raided three enemy airdromes and bombed and machine-gunned Japanese troops in the upper Chindwin area.

Japs Move Better Planes to Front

(By United Press)

The Japanese were reported today to have moved new and improved fighter planes into the New Guinea area, stepping up their preparations for an expected all-out drive southward from the 2500-mile fringe of island bases above Australia.

A United Press dispatch from New Guinea said U. S. fliers guarding the Australian approaches had encountered the new craft, possibly improved Zeros, and had noted recent increases in enemy air activity in the Wewak-Madang area along New Guinea's north coast.

ELECT HATTERY

Advisory Board For County T. B. Sanatorium Organizes.

The advisory board for the Richland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium last night re-elected Dr. John S. Hattery as president. Dr. Edward Dowds, Shelby, was named vice-president and Mrs. Lincoln Fisher was elected secretary.

In previous years only a president had been named by the board which had held no regularly scheduled sessions. The board planned, in the coming year, to hold regular meetings bi-monthly with a called meeting set for May 20.

Dr. Hattery named a house committee of five to be in charge of needed repairs, remodeling or replacements at the sanatorium. They are: Mrs. George Mead, John A. Swisher, Franklin township and M. E. Fisher, Jefferson township.

Dr. Oren A. Beatty, superintendent, gave a detailed report concerning the sanatorium.

Before it is polished, any diamond appears dull and lifeless. Only after leaving the cutter's bench does it attain its full, scintillating beauty. The finer the cutting, the more brilliant the stone. Multi-Facet Diamonds, product of a new method of cutting, have 40 extra facets around the edge, or girdle. These added facets create a myriad of light-reflecting surfaces. Moreover, since Multi-Facet cutting emphasizes the color, no off-color stones are used.

Advantages of Multi-Facet Diamonds:

- Every Multi-Facet Diamond has at least 98 facets.
- The 40 extra facets around girdle eliminate the rough edge; help prevent chipping.
- Multi-Facet cutting enhances color of stone.
- Increased light-catching surfaces add to brilliance.

VAN NUYS FEARS FOOD RIOTS IF ACTION LAGS

Declares Attention Must Be Given To Processors and Producers.

(Editor's Note: In the following article written exclusively for International News Service, Senator Van Nuys, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, discusses the American food situation.)

By SENATOR FREDERICK VAN NUYS, Indiana.
Chairman of Senate Judiciary Committee)
(Distributed by INS)

WASHINGTON—I have spent much time and energy for several months in a study of the food situation.

To me, it is one of the most pressing problems of the day. It has many ramifications but one or two of the most outstanding angles are as follows:

It is common knowledge that we must increase our production if we continue our present program. Now it is indisputable that unless the farmers of this country are provided with more adequate help, we are going to fall down in expected production. I do not care what the professional economists say to the contrary. The seeming indifference of some local draft boards and certain heads of our military establishment here in Washington, to the pleas of the farmers for deferment of their sons and helpers, has caused the abandonment of countless dairies and farms. A casual inspection of any local weekly newspaper will reveal pages of notices of public sales of farms, equipment, and dairy cattle owing to "draft of my sons" or "inadequate help."

Likewise, the more attractive wages offered by national defense projects have lured thousands of farm laborers away from the farm. Neither the farmers, nor any other kind of private business can compete with the government in the payment of wages.

I do not want to be an alarmist in these trying times, but I have insisted, and still insist, that unless more attention is paid to the producers and processors of food in the immediate future, we may expect a serious food shortage in this country before long, involving food riots and failure to provide our boys and men in the service with plenty of good wholesome food. This must not be. After months of effort, however, I believe we are making progress. The congress recently passed a bill appropriating over $5,000,000 to assist in providing the supply and distribution of farm labor for 1943. Between $9,000,000 and $13,000,000 of this sum will be distributed to the several states, according to their need. This money will be disbursed by state agencies under the supervision of the administrator of food production and distribution. This action should be very helpful.

The department of justice is active in apprehending "black market" marauders. The congress is attaching riders to appropriation bills, making the deferment of farm labor mandatory instead of advisory.

The coming international food conference should be helpful.

Millions of victory gardens will add substantially to the sustenance of our civilian population.

The sympathetic administration of the Office of Price Administration, under Prentiss Brown, rather than the oft repeated policy of the previous administrator to "make it tough" is inspiring the people to a still greater degree of cooperation.

The elimination of waste in military camps and civilian life is helping.

As soon as the heads of all executive and military departments, and the congress itself, recognize that the man with the hoe is just as essential to a speedy and successful termination of the war as is the man with the gun, then we shall succeed and not until then.

GHOST OF MY LOVE +

CHAPTER XX

At 2 p. m. she found herself confiding more and more in kindly Uncle Pete Quincy, because he was sympathetic and never overtalked.

"I'm certain Harry has that lumber scattered in about four locations," she told Uncle Pete, sitting with him there on the hotel porch. "He as much as said so, to me. And when he thinks the time is exactly right to squeeze Bill, he'll come out and offer to sell it. But at an exhorbitant price."

"Yes mum," Uncle Pete nodded.

"Anyway, Uncle Pete—I guess Bill will be forced to pay it. But if he does, it will forever wreck his prestige in Washington! It'll just about ruin his career! But Harry would love that. He hates Bill."

"Our country . . . needs fliers."

"It certainly does, Uncle Pete. That's the most important thing of all. It's why Bill is almost crazy. This was to have been the second largest pilot training field in the nation. Here where the weather is right for year-round flight. Where we are near mountain, lakes, plains, all kinds of geographic and climatic conditions. Safely inland, and yet not too far from the coast. Why Uncle Pete, the army was planning to send the cream of its young men here for training! And England was to send a select group, first of all."

Uncle Pete didn't answer. He was standing now, the better to see down the roadway. Rosemary followed his gaze.

An army peep was coming, escorted by two motorcycles with side cars. When they drew nearer, Rosemary saw that all passengers were men in uniforms, and that all were heavily armed.

Sight of the army peep and the motorcycles caused a vague fear in Rosemary. She hastened down the steps of the Lightning City hotel. The vehicles slowed, drew up in front of the hotel rather tentatively. Three British soldiers were in the peep, and two more in each of the motorcycles. She saw the bristle of side arms and the more alert and ready muzzle of sub-machine guns. All seven men were frankly staring.

"I beg your pardon, Miss," a courteous young sergeant stood up in the peep, "is this—I say, this is extraordinary!"

"Tell me, quickly!" she demanded now. "Has—is Bill all right? Is he?"

"Who?"

"Bill! Bill St. Clair. Have you—"

"Please, are you by any chance Miss Lee? Rosemary Lee?"

"Yes! But what about Bill St. Clair?"

"Are you alarmed about him, Miss? We haven't seen him. In fact—"

"You didn't come from the air field?"

"On the contrary, we are looking for the air field."

"Oh! Then you—you—"

* * *

"I say, this IS extraordinary!" he repeated, glancing around the ghost street now. "Most unconventional, you know. Most."

"The—yes. This is Lightning The town of Lightning. You boys—you're English."

"Right, miss." He bowed. "Sergeant Wayne, and a special detachment."

"And you haven't seen Mr. St. Clair? He didn't send you, or anything?"

"We have not seen him. Definitely. But my orders are to go direct to his headquarters.

"Oh." She looked confused. "Are you—"

"Do we conclude that Mr. St. Clair is not here? We were told in the town of Option that he would be up this road, in Purple Canyon. The new field—"

"That's the new field yonder where you see the dust cloud. It's three miles."

"Right. And Mr. St. Clair. Will he have headquarters there?"

"This is his headquarters," Rosemary indicated the hotel. "This is where the draftsmen work."

"I say! The facilities are not what one expected!"

"Do you mind telling me who you are? Why you are here, I mean?"

"Will you pardon me, first? Our orders are to report to Miss Lee in event Mr. St. Clair was absent. May I—ah—request some assured identification, Miss Lee? You see, frankly, we are carrying quite a bit of money. Our responsibility is—"

"Money?" She interrupted.

"Right. There's approximately $22,000, American. Pay day is tomorrow, and certain provisions must be had also. Here's the manifest, Miss Lee. That is, if I can be sure you are Miss Lee. You understand my position." He took a paper from his pocket.

"But what in the world for? I think there must be some mistake, Sergeant Wayne. We weren't expecting any money."

"But you can take care of it?"

"I—you mean—lock it up or something?"

"Right."

"Well I," Rosemary laughed a little, in confusion, "there's no one here to bother it, but the ghosts. Uncle Pete Quincy—he's the proprietor of this hotel—he does have a steel vault."

"Perhaps it will serve."

"You want to know if I'm really Rosemary Lee. I can show you my identification card as a government employe, if you'll come inside. Do you mean you are to report something to me, if you don't find Mr. St. Clair in?"

"You are his lieutenant, in effect. So I was told."

"Yes I—I suppose so," Rosemary felt a little awed by him. "My men and I are serving as carriers only. The money is no longer our responsibility after we deliver it to you. You'll find all the instructions clear, on the papers here."

"Then—Bill and I have to be responsible! For money!"

"Right. You see, our own officers and general personnel—we have been scattered by transportation difficulties, Miss Lee. Colonel Halliday communicated with Washington. I believe, and received instructions there for us to come ahead and report to Mr. St. Clair, or to you as his lieutenant in charge of the air field."

"Oh. But I—the field isn't—"

"Please don't look so alarmed, Miss. It's quite all right, probably." He was a very courteous young man. "I must admit you are really quite young looking. But of a surety, you will be able to—"

"I can do whatever I have to do," she informed him, spunkily.

"Righto," he bowed again.

They had gone into the offices, there in the hotel. She showed him her own identification. The men in his charge came in carrying and guarding a leather box, locked and sealed, and Sergeant Wayne said this contained the $22,000. All of the Britishers then were introduced to her.

"I still don't understand," she told them. "I'm sure there must be a mistake somewhere. You see, the time schedule for our project here—" she broke off, looking out the window in obvious distress.

"You are wishing for Mr. St. Clair, miss?" Sergeant Wayne asked.

"Yes! I'm sure something's wrong. I mean—we weren't to be ready for a month! The field hasn't even—"

"Oh, I see. Colonel Halliday told Captain Gray—I overheard their conversation—the colonel said that trainees would be at their studies here well in advance of the field's completion, Miss Lee."

"Goodness! But the field—you see, the lumber isn't even—"

"I have upset you, haven't I! I apologize."

"Please—no. That part's all right. You are very courteous. But your Colonel Halliday just doesn't understand. Even Washington doesn't understand. Things here are not what they seem. Not at all! That's why we must get Mr. St. Clair at once. I mean, you must go back. You must take the money and return with it to—"

"But Miss Lee, that will be most awkward, if you'll pardon me. We have nowhere to go!"

She stared at him. "Nowhere—to go? You mean—?"

"Miss Lee, we are simply the advance party, we seven. The main caravan is about three hours behind us."

"Main—caravan? Oh goodness! It—is—?"

"Yes! The truck caravan will be here in three hours, bringing first trainees for the new field. About 150 men!"

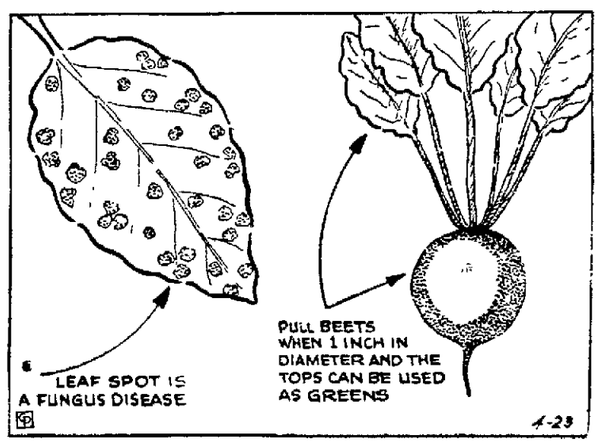
Today's VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH



Care of Beets In Victory Garden.

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association.

ENOUGH BEETS should be planted in the Victory garden to insure tender young ones for table use all through the summer. As a guide to your needs bear in mind that one ounce of beet seed will plant a row 100 feet long and that amount should yield about two and one-half bushels of beets. Aside from the nutritional value of the beet roots the beet greens are an excellent source of vitamins A and G in iron.

As illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, many gardeners prefer to pull up the beets when the root is about one inch in diameter. At this time the tops are very tender and make succulent greens while the beets themselves, although small, are ready for table use. The beet roots, however, are at their best for table use when they are one and one-half to two inches in diameter.

One of the most common ills of beets is leaf spot. The appearance of an afflicted leaf is shown in the illustration. The center of the disease spot is white and the outer border a purplish color.

Leaf spot is a fungus disease and can be controlled by spraying with Bordeaux mixture or dusting with a copper-lime dust when the spots appear and continuing at 10 day intervals.

Crop rotation and disinfecting the seeds before planting are two means for keeping down leaf spot.

SEATS AND BERTHS FOR TWO MILLION A MONTH!

THE rate at which the railroads are now moving men of the armed forces is about 2,000,000 a month. In addition, they are carrying thousands of soldiers, sailors, marines, coast guardsmen traveling on leave.

In no war in which this country has ever engaged have the railroads been called upon to move so many troops—to so many places—and so many times. For example, in the last war a soldier was moved an average of two trips between the time he entered service and went abroad. Now, the average is about six trips—because modern warfare is more technical, calls for more extensive training.

So a tremendous amount of passenger equipment is constantly in service transporting military and naval personnel. On the Pennsylvania Railroad alone, over 800 coaches—or more than a third of the railroad's entire coach equipment—are engaged daily in moving troops. Yes, and a great many of its Pullman cars also.

Naturally, this cuts down materially the number of seats and berths available for civilian travel, in addition to creating other problems for the railroads. But everybody realizes there is a war to be won—and the equipment must go to those who are winning it.

So what's the public doing?

Exactly what you'd expect any American to do—cooperating in every way possible with the railroads to see that the war effort suffers in no way. Taking occasional inconveniences or lateness understandingly, thoughtfully cancelling at once accommodations that can't be used, promptly vacating seats in dining cars on finishing meals, taking aboard only one bag—helping in many ways. And for this the Pennsylvania Railroad—every railroad, in fact—is deeply appreciative.

Good Friday In Gloom-Shrouded World

A BRIGHT flame of righteous anger pierces the world-encircling gloom that marks today's observance of Good Friday, and the words of Jesus to his disciples: "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword," take on new meaning when they are considered in association with the evil deeds of savage people who still make it necessary to conquer by the sword.

It is in this Holy Week that revelation was made of almost unbelievable atrocities committed by the Japanese against American prisoners of war, and as this day commemorates the agony of Christ upon the cross it may also serve to burn deeply into the minds of all Americans, and civilized people everywhere, that millions of people are now bearing a heavy cross and that it is only by supremacy of the sword of righteousness that their burden can be removed—that some, like those valiant fliers who fell into the hands of barbaric Japanese, must go on to their Golgotha.

In the hours that remain of this Good Friday, with the solemn significance that marks this commemoration, it would be well for people of every faith to contemplate the common purpose of their religious endeavors and to recognize the need for unity among all right-thinking people in strengthening the force of good over evil and to consider how they may best help in hastening the day when the blessing of permanent peace can be brought to the peoples privileged to inhabit the earth.

There are those who, as "conscientious objectors," claim exemption from the actualities of war, but there can be no exemption from the horrors now being visited upon their fellowmen by barbaric enemies—nor can there be exemption from the fate that would befall America and the free countries of the world should the military power of those enemies finally prevail.

Neither vengeance nor retaliation need be uppermost in mind as intensification of the war effort is determined upon. Real purpose of the war, as it is being fought by the United Nations, is to make God's world a better place of abode for successive generations of the people He has placed upon it.

Congressmen Recess To 'Think'

BETWEEN now and Monday, May 3 when they will reconvene after a ten-day Easter recess, congressmen will have time to do some more thinking about the income tax bill, on which they must eventually take action.

Some sort of pay-as-you-go compromise will probably be agreed upon after more jangling—and the matter will then go to the senate for consideration and such changes as may be deemed advisable by upper house legislators.

The Ruml plan, which has been widely supported in public opinion surveys, is apparently too simple to attain majority support in congress and present efforts of the ways and means committee seem designed to complicate the calculation of taxes sufficiently to cause customary confusion among taxpayers.

An idea, presented by its opponents, that the Ruml plan would "forgive" a year's taxes is absurd, as it would simply base the calculation of taxes on the year in which income is earned, instead of the preceding year. It would enable the government to collect $3,000,000,000 more than can be collected under the present law, and would let no wealthy man pay less this year, but would compel many persons with high incomes to pay more than the present law exacts.

If income taxpayers are to be put upon some semblance of a pay-as-you-go basis by July 1, as has been hoped, early May will be none too soon for congress to take definite action, instead of continuing to fiddle around over political differences.

'States Rights' After the War

ENCOURAGING in these days of increasing centralization of authority in Washington bureaus, is the tenor of a recent twelve-state conference on postwar problems.

Here, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, together with Governor Herbert O'Connor of Maryland and Governor J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, demanded that powers granted the federal government in the prosecution of the war be returned to the states when peace comes.

As Governor Dewey pointed out, "powers essential to the freedom of the people" can be endangered if "polluted by the exercise of control over essentially local matters."

Demonstrating the "dangers and difficulties" resulting from the direction of local problems from the central seat of government, Governer Dewey cited federal handling of the food problem He said that, although the states had "foreseen the catastrophe for many months," the federal government "never saw the problem—never acted on it until a few weeks ago—never even reversed its crop restriction program in time."

Other speakers at the meeting, looking squarely at the postwar situation, were of the opinion that free industry will be the chief source of jobs after the war, and that government can help industry in its task by adopting "constructive fiscal and monetary policies and establishing a climate in which free enterprise can flourish."

High Cost of Carelessness

THIRTY ACRES of tall pine, oak and maple trees, most of them at least fifty years old, were destroyed in the Bear Mountain, N. Y., state park the other day. It took a force of forty rangers, park police and forest-fire patrolmen six hours to put out the fire. What started it? Oh, a group of picnickers who were careless with cigarets and their cooking fire.

People who have seen the terrible destruction of the western forest fires sometimes view these comparatively small eastern blazes without much concern. And indeed thirty acres of high pine and hardwood isn't a postage stamp compared with the square miles of great standing timber lost in one of the western mountain conflagrations.

But the country really cannot afford any such devastation, whether it be a half-acre woodlot or a hundred miles of burning mountain and valley. Carelessness about fire is inexcusable.

Anyway, being frozen to a job is better than being frozen out of it.

No breadlines nowadays—only whisky lines.

GRINDING SLOWLY BUT SURELY

Campaign of Atrocity By Enemy Marks Change From World War 1

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

JAPAN'S barbaric atrocity in executing American airmen who were prisoners of war gives point with a vengeance to the current Allied reiteration that the Axis powers and Nippon must surrender unconditionally.

Almost—but not quite—does this horror make us forget that the people of this country and the rest of the United Nations aren't barbarians but are bent on uprooting this very savagery from a tortured world. However, as President Roosevelt has said, all those who participated in this frightfulness will be brought to justice.

Of course we could expect nothing better from a nation which for years has been pouring deliberate murder from the skies upon defenseless women and children in China. The bombing atrocities at Nanking still horrify civilized countries. Who can forget the mass rapings and murders of European women in Hongkong? Or the treachery at Pearl Harbor?

Truly the Japanese will have a terrible bill to pay when the final account is rendered.

Announcement of this fresh crime came after concerted action between Washington and London in reaffirming that nothing but unconditional surrender would be accepted from the enemy.

Presidents Roosevelt and Avila Camacho emphasized it at their meeting at Monterrey, Mexico, and British Foreign Secretary Eden evoked cheers from the house of commons by a similar statement. At the same time Secretary of State Hull and British Dominions Secretary Attlee made it clear Japan was in the same sinking ship as Hitler and his satellites.

* * *

AS I WAS studying these statements there came to my desk a little Associated Press feature pointing out that this day, 25 years ago, Baron Von Richthofen, Germany's greatest air ace, was shot down behind the British lines in France and was buried with military honors. This item struck me as giving a perfect illustration of the difference between this war and the last.

Maybe that's because I was with the British forces in the sector where and when the baron was killed, and know rather well why the Allies accorded him military honors.

President Avila Camacho gave us the key to this difference when he said of the present conflict that "we must above all destroy the machinery of barbarism constructed by the dictators.' The first World war was an exhibition of Prussian militaristic aggression, and heaven knows that's bad enough, but this upheaval is Prussian militarism with Hitlerism superimposed—and that devilish doctrine is a throwback to barbarism. To this the Japanese wholeheartedly subscribe.

The Allies respected Richthofen because he was a clean fighter. His crimson plane was known the length of the Allied fighting front. He was the most daring of all the enemy airmen, and the day he was shot down he chased a British plane right over its home trenches at a height of only 300 feet.

But while the baron knew no fear, he never would shoot a sitting bird. He always would dip his wings in salute and sail away if an enemy pilot's machinegun jammed and left him helpless.

High officers came from far distances to attend the funeral of Richthofen in the tiny hamlet on the Somme, while a great fleet of Allied planes circled overhead as a tribute. They honored this German because he represented a spirit which is lacking among the Axis and Japanese forces in this war.

* * *

TODAY we are fighting pure barbarism. The Japs have demonstrated this anew in the crime they perpetrated on our men. Recently the inter-Allied information committee of the United Nations in London stated 3,400,000 people had been executed or had died in prison in Nazi-occupied countries by the end of 1942. We don't have to accept this staggering figure to prove the point, for the boche themselves have announced numerous mass executions of civilians and boasted of them as reprisals.

That's why we are going to force unconditional surrender and smash barbarism.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

AFTER what the Japs did to our fliers it's going to be difficult to keep our minds on the strategy of knocking Germany out of the war first.

* * *

There may not be much choice between the ruthlessness of the Nazis and the Japs but at the moment the dirty little Nips are leading our hate parade.

If we needed anything to steam up our interest in the war in the Pacific, this is it.

* * *

And now that we've got it, what are we going to do about it?

* * *

All the indignant speeches of officialdom put together won't disturb the complacency of the scurvy little bandits of Tokyo.

* * *

But waves of bombers will.

* * *

And that's not an original thought—every fighting man in the Pacific has been looking for the arrival of more bombers since before the Philippines fell.

* * *

Thought for the day: Put up or shut up . . . that's the way wars are fought.

Dave Boone Says:

A GROUP of Americans which gives the American public more for its money, works harder to serve the public interest and does it under more badgering and criticism than any other group in the country is winding up a meeting in New York. I mean the American newspaper publishers, editors, writers and managers.

It's too bad they ain't hard-headed businessmen primarily interested in fat profits. If they were they would charge at least ten cents a copy for the project instead of almost giving it away. The American newspaper is about the one essential left in this country that is sold so cheap it's almost unbelievable.

Racketeers Win This Round.

The tender consideration for numbers racketeers shown by 48 members of the Ohio house of representatives is hard to understand.

Their negative votes killed a bill which would have stiffened the maximum penalties for operators of the numbers game.

This is a form of gambling in which the odds are more heavily weighed than usual against the suckers who contribute. It is so lucrative to its operators that it has frequently given rise to violence as rival gangs fight to control it.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Query: 'Where Is Luftwaffe?' Allied Air Forces Wrecking It

WASHINGTON—With American planes increasing their bombing tempo over Europe, it is now permissible to lift the curtain and reveal the true picture of British versus American bombing methods; also to answer the question, "Where is the Luftwaffe?"

It is generally known that the British send out their bombing missions at night, and the Americans operate in the daytime. But it is not generally known that the British still think their methods superior, in the face of highly successful American performances. Also it is not known that as recently as the conference at Casablanca, Churchill argued with Major Gen. Ira Eaker for two hours in an effort to convert him to night bombing.

Churchill used all his persuasive magnetism to press home the point that American bombers require fighter escort for daylight protection, that they need such heavy armor and armament that their bomb load is only a third or a fourth of the British, and that bad weather prevents precision bombing a large part of the time.

But Gen. Eaker held his ground. He has been fully supported by Gen. H. H. "Hap" Arnold, chief of the air forces, with the result that American methods will not be changed.

Inside fact about this friendly allied argument is that American methods are rapidly proving superior to British. Key to the whole question is the damage done to the enemy. American planes are not only hitting their targets with remarkable precision, but they are drawing into action so many Nazi fighters, and knocking so many out of the sky, that the Luftwaffe is gradually disintegrating.

Most Sensational News.

THIS is no figure of speech. Actually it is the most sensational news of the war. The American air force in Britain has received information on Germany's air power—or lack of it—which indicates that Nazi fighter planes are being destroyed so rapidly that there must be a complete turnover just about every four months.

In other words, Allied forces are now destroying the total German fighter strength at the rate of about three times a year. This means that all the German fighters in existence on Jan. 1 should be destroyed by April 30, and Germany should have left only those fighters built since Jan. 1.

Obviously it is desirable to strike the aircraft plants producing the fighters, which may be the reason behind the recent American raid on the Focke-Wulf plant in Bremen, a city which the British have raided a score of times without knocking out that plant.

Here again is the difference between "area bombing" and "precision bombing." The British send over a great weight of bombs and lay down a blanket which is supposed to cover everything for acres. But they missed the vital Focke-Wulf plant, which the American bombers, with smaller bomb loads, knocked out by the simple process of turning the bomb-sight on the target, in broad daylight, and then letting go with everything.

"Suicidal" U. S. Raids.

THIS accuracy has amazed the British without convincing them. They were first amazed last Aug. 17, when the Americans, against British protests, staged their first daylight raid over the Continent. The British said it was suicidal, but the Flying Fortresses laid down their "eggs" on Rouen, and came back without a single loss. The RAF had estimated that casualties would be 50 to 100 per cent.

It was five months after this, at Casablanca, that Churchill tried to take Eaker into camp.

But Eaker is moving in the opposite direction. Instead of going over to night bombing, which incidentally would mean a loss of identity for the American bomber command and a merging with the British, he is looking ahead to the time when precision bombing will be still more precise.

There is a secret apparatus about to be used, in which one man will actually control the flight of the plane and the aiming and releasing of the bombs at the same time, instead of having to effect the difficult coordination between bombardier and pilot, as at present.

* * *

Congested Traffic.

FURTHERMORE, American planes will soon be over the Continent "in force," as they have not been up to now.

The average American supposes that we have a great force of 1,000 bombers in England. The actual figures cannot be disclosed, but they are far less than that. By next August, however, they should not be less than that, and the skies over England will be so thick with outbound bombers that there would actually be a traffic congestion if all operated at night.

This is one reason why it is advantageous to divide bombing—the British by night, the U. S. by day. In addition to relieving traffic congestion over British airfields, this constant 'round-the-clock operation requires Nazi gun crews and fighter crews to work 24 hours of the day, or to operate two or three shifts.

If the American thesis required any more proof for Winston Churchill, here is this final persuasive fact. Losses are lower. When a flight of Flying Fortresses and Liberators goes out on a raid, all but 1.8 per cent of the bombers return. British losses, on the other hand, have averaged over 4 per cent.

On to Berlin!!

THE REAL importance of this story is not in the controversy between British and American methods which is a friendly one—but in the fact that the two forces, each in its own way, are about to open a spring and summer bombing campaign such as warfare has never known, destroying Nazi supplies and communications so effectively that when the moment of invasion comes, the Nazis actually will be unable to move their forces into action.

The Luftwaffe is not on the wane. It has waned. At the beginning of the war, it was the most powerful air force in the world. Now it is literally third-rate, surpassed first by the British, second by the Americans. And before long, a further double shift in the line-up will take place, whereby the Americans will come into first place, British second, Russians third, and the Luftwaffe fourth.

That will be the moment for the invasion.

Tunisia Will Attract Post-War Tourists But Few Reminders of Battle Will Remain.

NORTHERN TUNISIA—(By Wireless)—Thousands are the soldiers who want someday to bring their wives and children back to Tunisia, in times of peace, and take them over the battlefields we have come to know so well. But, except for the cities, they will not find much to remind them of the ferocity that existed here.

I have recently traveled over the Tunisian battle area—both the part we knew so intimately because it was on our side and the part we didn't know at all because the Germans lived there at the time.

You don't see the desolated countryside we remember from pictures of France in the last war. That is because the fighting has been mobile, because neither side used permanent huge guns, and because the country is mostly treeless and empty. But there are some marks left, and I'll try to give you examples in this and Sunday's column.

* * *

EAST of El Guettar down a broad valley through which runs a nice macadam road, you see dark objects sitting far off on the plain. These are burned-out tanks of both sides.

A certain two sit close together like twins, about a mile off the road. The immense caterpillar track is off one of them and lies trailed out behind for fifty feet. The insides are a shambles.

Seared and jumbled personal and mechanical debris is scattered around outside. Our soldiers have already retrieved everything worth-while from the German debris, but you can still find big wrenches, oil-soaked gloves, and twisted shell cases.

And in the shade of one tank, not five feet from the great metal skeleton, is the fresh grave of a German tanker, marked by a rough wooden cross without a name.

There are many of these tanks scattered miles apart through the valley.

On the hillsides you can still see white splotches — powder marks from our exploding artillery shells. Gnarled lengths of signal corps telephone wire, too mauled to retrieve, string for yards along the roadsides.

There are frequent filled-in holes in the macadam where artillery dive bombers took their toll. Now and then a little graveyard with wooden crosses stands lonesomely at the roadside. Some of the telephone poles have been chopped down. There are clumps of empty ammunition boxes.

But for all these things you must look closely. There was once a holocaust here but it left only a slight permanent mark. It is sort of hard to disfigure acres of marigolds and billions of blades of fresh desert grass.

SIDI BOU ZID is the little white village I saw destroyed by shellfire back in February. It was weeks later before I could get close enough to see the details, for the village remained German territory some time.

This was one of the little towns I knew so well, and now it is pitiful to look at. The village almost doesn't exist any more. Its dozens of low stone adobe buildings, stuccoed a snowy white, are nothing now but rockpiles. This village has died. The reason for the destruction of Sidi bou Zid was that German and American tank columns, advancing toward each other, met there. Artillery from both sides poured its long-range fury into the town for hours. There will have to be a new Sidi bou Zid.

* * *

FAID PASS is the last pass in the Grand Dorsal before the drive eastward onto the long flat plain that leads to the Mediterranean at Sfax. For months we looked with longing eyes at Faid. A number of times we tried to take it and failed. But when the Germans' big retreat came they left Faid Pass voluntarily. And they left it so thoroughly and maliciously mined that even today you don't dare drive off onto the shoulder of the road, or you may get blown to kingdom come.

Our engineers go through these mine fields with electrical instruments, locate the mines, and surround them with warning notices until they can later be dug up or exploded.

These notices are of two types—either a white ribbon strung around the mine area on knee-high sticks, or else stakes with oppositely pointing arrows on top. The white arrow pointing to the left meaning that side is safe, the red arrow pointing to the right meaning that side is mined.

And believe me, after seeing a few mine-wrecked trucks and jeeps you fear mines so dreadfully that you find yourself actually leaning away from the side of the road where the signs are, as you drive past.

A Farmer's Diary

By CALVIN A. BYERS

Field Lore

I LOOKED three different times at a mound of grass before I realized what lay beneath it. It appeared, from the back, like the uneven crown of a woman's hat. When I crossed the worm fence and observed it from the south, a tiny opening showed and I took my finger and pulled back the hooked lock of grass some wider. A mother quail was just inside. With ruffled feathers, she flew out in front of me and sailed down into the meadow. Her little home was not completed yet, I saw, so I went away.

But first I marked the spot and I hope my footsteps did not make the pair suspicious. For here is something I would like to watch, from day to day.

I have stumbled on such nests before, and found from a dozen to 20 white, bantamlike eggs—or a cluster of empty shells, each folded back and inverted to conceal the vacant space within. But how long does the brooding mother sit and how long at a time does she leave her nest? And does her mate stand guard while she is out? How does she turn her eggs without breaking any? How big are the youngsters newly-hatched? Are any eggs infertile? Is the low thatched roof really water proof in time of storm?

For this once, only, I wish to mark the days myself from the time the first egg is laid to the day when a score of little beaks break through the shells. It would be fine to share, from very close, the pride of the wee wild mother with so many fluffy chicks beneath her breast and wings. To thrill to the first low note of solicitude, as soothing as a human lullaby. With all this sweet wild lore from first hand observation, I shall be even more content to see this happy family seek their livelihood all summer in the lush grass of the meadow, the garden, and the woods.

Gracie Allen's Home Alman(i)ac

I think there comes a time in every woman's life as she watches her husband go out to his Thursday evening poker club, that she decides she wants a pet. After all, it's a very comforting thing to have something around the house you can call Tyrone or Cary, even if it's only a schnauzer.

Some women have had very nice experiences with parrots. Parrots are not only gay and chatty, but I knew a woman who had a parrot that did a wonderful imitation of Charles' Boyer. Except, of course, the parrot's eyes didn't photograph as large.

The only thing with pets is that you grow so attached to them. One of my neighbors was very fond of her horse. It was named Everett and everyone treated it as part of the family. But when meat rationing came in, the horse grew more and more self-conscious, until one day it burst out of the yard sobbing, and no one ever saw it again.

Some pets are very sensitive, you see. We have a little dachshund who is so afraid that some one will think he is a Nazi, that he spends all his time hanging around Kelley's pool room so he can learn to bark with a brogue.

The little dachshund has a terrific crush on our Paul Whiteman and keeps trying to jump up on his lap. The only trouble is Paul doesn't have a lap any more, and the dog is developing a height phobia.

Donald Given Named to Head P. T. A. Group at Appleseed

At the April meeting of the Johnny Appleseed Junior high Parent-Teacher association Thursday, Donald Given was elected president for the coming year.

Other officers chosen by the group includes Mrs. Herman Brunk, first vice president; Eugene Boling, second vice president; Mrs. Frank Wendt, secretary, and Mrs. Russell Moore, treasurer.

A pan-American program featured an informal talk illustrated by moving pictures by Mrs. Ethelouise Carpenter who lived and taught school in La Paz, Bolivia, for a year.

She said that in Bolivia the population is 85 per cent Indian. The people are friendly and likeable but very emotional, crying or laughing over trivial things, she said.

Mrs. Carpenter gave a picture of the rugged counry and its effect on the people. She said the homes are poorly built and cold. While the men dress very plainly, the women wear gay and bright clothes, she said.

According to the speaker the food is poor and there is no refrigeration, labor is cheap and undependable, and the country has many problems of transportation and sanitation. She also told of the fiesta which are gay celebrations lasting an entire week.

In keeping with the pan-American theme a grils' octette made up of seventh and eighth grade girls sang three Latin-American songs. Following the lecture the group visited the Pan-American exhibit set up in the dramatics room. Miss Elena Percy was the chairman of the program.

Hamilton, Mrs. Charles Prosser and Mrs. Leslie Edgerton, served refreshments for a table in the form of a cross. Mixed flowers and Easter appointments were used for decorations.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

My father suddenly smiled at me, and before he spoke I divined that my victory was won.

"You may keep your hat on," he said. "I have no reason whatever for keeping Jack and Katharine apart. I suppose you would like permission to go down to the hideaway and reason with Jack?"

"Or use a rolling pin, if reason fails," I said, feeling a bit giddy with my unexpected victory. "But Father," more seriously, "please do not think I am taking this lightly. I simply cannot stand by and see Katharine suffer so poignantly without trying to do something about it."

He turned to the telephone and spoke crisply into it.

"Please send Winters up to me immediately," he said.

Notes To Gus and Jack.

Then he sat down at the desk and hurriedly wrote two notes, one very brief, the other longer, and handed them to me to read.

One, addressed to Gus, simply said: "See that Mrs. Graham see Mr. Bickett," and was signed with my father's full name. The other, addressed to Jack, was more familiar and more elaborate.

"Dear Jack," it ran. "Margaret is determined to see you. She discovered by accident that you are at the hideaway, and I have confirmed her discovery. I advise you not only to see her, but to grant the request she will make of you. Of course I have no right to coerce your decision, but I feel very strongly that you will make no mistake if you do what she asks. Affectionately, Spencer."

"Give the first to Gus as soon as you see him," he said, "but keep the other until you see Jack; otherwise he might refuse to see you. But Gus will see that you meet Jack face to face, and before he has any warning of your coming Winters will escort you down there and bring you back. Please expedite your interview. I am always uneasy when yor are away from the hotel."

"I won't waste a minute," I promised him, and then Winters came, received his instructions and took me by taxi to the hideaway.

Gus, his eyes round with surprise, took the note I gave him and read it twice, then looked at me in dismay.

"Mr. Bickett, he says he won't see anybody," he said. "I don't know what he'll do to me if I take you in."

"You don't have to take me in," I said. "Just take me into the next room. Is the door locked?"

"Yes, he always keeps it locked."

"Do you have a certain knock which he knows?"

"Yes, two knocks, repeated three times," and he showed me on the door I had entered.

Taken By Surprise.

"Now," I said, "leave me in the room next to his, and Mr. Winters will stay here with you. You will not be responsible for anything I may do, so Mr. Bickett cannot blame you. These are my father's orders."

"I'm sure glad of that," Gus commented dryily, then ushered me into the room next Jack's and lost no time in scuttling out again.

Feeling as if my heart was in my throat, I gave the signal knock, then leaned heavily against the door. When Jack opened it, I pushed through it and past him.

"Margaret!" he said wildly, when he had regained his composure. "What does this mean? How did you find out—"

"Read this," I interrupted, thrusting my father's note into his hand. "It's a message from my father. After that I will explain to you why I am here."

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, April 24.

While the mentality may be keyed to brave plans and creative ideas, making for exceptional achievements, yet the entire scope of affairs may be beclouded by a menace of deception, intrigue and suspicious undercurrents. Persistent efforts and clever resourcefulness or originality may bring success. But watch for a sinister or disintegrating influence in intimate relations or romance.

Those whose birthday it is may be able to avert an undermining and sinister attack by brilliant tactics, originality, and industrious endurance.

A child born on this day may have much sound ability and ingenuity fitting it for public service or high adventure. But deceit and intrigue may underlie its domestic or romantic happiness.

THEATERS

Henry Aldrich Back.

The laughs are on Henry Aldrich again. The latest movie adventure of the "problem child" will open tomorrow at the Madison when Paramount presents "Henry Aldrich Gets Glamour" with Jimmy Lydon as Henry. The new film derives its title from the fact that Henry wins a movie contest which entitles him to a trip to Hollywood and a date with the lovely sarong-wearing star, Frances Gifford. Don Ameche, Janet Blair and Jack Oakie are starred in the co-attraction, "Something To Shout About."

'Mug Town' Opens.

Two of Hollywood's best known juvenile groups, the Deal End Kids and the Little Tough Guys, combine in Universal's "Mug Town" which opens tomorrow at the Ritz. The picture also marks the debut of Grace McDonald, former Broadway singer and dancer. Billy Halop, Huntz Hall, Bernard Punsly and Gabriel Dell have leading roles in the film. The co-feature is "Sergeant York," starring Gary Cooper.

Moving Locale.

Designed as a "Grand Hotel" of a railroad train, Universal's "Half Way to Shanghai," now showing at the Park, required only three small sets. They were a compartment car, baggage car and diner. The film is located aboard the line running from Lashio, Burma road terminus, to Rangoon. Irene Harvey and Kent Taylor head the cast. The plot unfolds around a map showing the location of China's secret munitions dump. Buster Crabbe takes the lead in "The Cyclone Kid," co-attraction.

Keep Your Face Clean, Young Looking

Women have individual ideas as to the best means of keeping their faces clean and young-looking. You'd be surprised to know how many systems are being worked out. There are the oilies who are soap and water enthusiasts, wouldn't touch their countenances with a bit of cream if all the beauty specialists in this fair land told them they should. Then there are the creamers who fancy soap acts as an irritant. Between the rightists and the leftists are the sitters-on-the-fencers who use soap suds and cream and anything else that they happen to snatch from a cosmetic counter that has a label that sounds interesting.

Here is one method that has many followers: makeup is removed with an oil or thin cream. A heavy emollent is applied, the flesh is given a brisk spanking until it glows. This application is allowed to remain on all night. In the morning there is a soapy scrubbing, a warm water rinse followed by a cold one. Then a gentle drying and an astringent slapped on with bits of cotton. After which performance the makeup kit is hauled out and the facial decorating starts.

The foregoing is a favorite method of women with dryskins who claim that if cream is left on at night, it works favorably with soap suds in the morning.

Other women use soap and water freely at night. They back up this practice with a reasonable argument. By bedtime they have collected plenty of atmospheric dust. They have dirty faces even if they are nice, fastidious girls. Also they have makeup on. They have a feeling that only soap can make a first class job of getting a face ready togo to bed.

After the washing, rinsing and drying, they apply a cream, give themselves a five-minute massage. In the morning there is a cold water rinse to give freshness and color. A foundation cosmetic is used; powder and pigment go on.

This method is best for the average complxion. Cream that remains on the flesh during the long hours of the night will feed the cells.

There are skins that will not tolerate soap; some even rebel against oily preparations. One must resort to cleansing meals that can be found on cosmetic counters.

Moisten a wash cloth, sprinkle on the meal, go over the flesh lightly. Such temperamental complexions are a nuisance and a bother. The powder should be light, fluffed on sparingly.

The Galapagos Islands are dotted with two thousand volcanic crater cones.

What a shock he got when East discarded on that trick. Now desperate, he came to his own hand with a spade honor and led the diamond 5, intending to finesse the 9 if West played low. But West split his low honors, sticking in the 10. Now South had no way to score more than three tricks in diamonds, plus five in the other suits, so was down one.

Playing with foresight, South would have finessed the diamond 9 when West put the 2 on the suit's first lead. This would not have been for the purpose of trying to win a finesse, but rather of making sure he could win the second, third and fourth round of the suit in dummy if West happened to have them all, being willing to lose one trick in the suit to East if the latter had the J or 10. Playing thus would have made sure of six diamond tricks if East had the J or 10, and seven if he did not. The least South could have gained, playing that way, was 11 tricks all told, with a chance for 12.

URGENT

PUBLIC NOTICE

From every fighting front comes a cry for help!

This Is IT! This is the call you must heed—the plea you must respond to. On every fighting front America moves ahead. In the tortuous swamps of the tropics, on the raging seas, over the air of Europe and in Africa our troops are striking hard.

And from everywhere there comes a cry for help.

"More tanks, more guns!" cry the soldiers.

"More planes, more bombs" beg our flying squadrons.

They're ready, eager to strike at the enemy. And they turn to America—to YOU—for help.

And that is why your Government makes this urgent public appeal asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars during these momentous days. NOW . . . as America takes the offensive . . . your dollars must take the offensive, too!

You must act at once!

Yes, it's going to be hard to dig deeper. It's going to be hard to give up all spending except for the necessities of life. It will be easy for the part-time patriot to find excuses for himself. But think of what the millions of men fighting this war are giving up! Think of the thousands who have given their lives and the many more who are prepared to do so. If you can still face this one fact squarely and fail to buy more War Bonds and still more War Bonds—then no appeal in the world can reach your heart.

Invest in your own security!

During this drive (beginning April 12th), you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are working to make this 2nd Drive a great success. Welcome him! Because he's there to help you make the safest investment in the world—at a good rate of interest.

Listen to what he has to tell you. See which of the various types of War Bonds and other securities is best fitted to your needs. And remember, every dollar you lend means another step towards security after this war. It means money to take advantage of the many opportunities that will be open to you when peace comes. Money that will guarantee you what you want in the future.

But don't wait for the War Bond representative to call. Go, right now, to your nearest bank or Post Office or place where they sell War Bonds. Buy all you can—and then more! Join the big offensive! Answer your country's call for help!

FAIR ENOUGH-- By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK—President Roosevelt is a rich man who inherited in 1941, in addition to his inited wealth, the estate of his mother amounting more than a million dollars.

Henry Morgenthau, his secretary of the treasury his neighbor in the rich country of the landed try up the Hudson river, also is a man of vast alth, likewise inherited. Neither man earned his own fortune, neither ever has had to earn even his own living and both have so much money that they could pay their income taxes for 1942 and 1943 in the current year by dipping slightly into their inherited capital and still ride the cushions the rest of their way through life. They could convert a portion of their assets into currency and live to the end as what they are, millionaires, without ever receiving another dol-of income. Although it is the duty of congress levy taxes, the president, through Morgenthau, o is not an originator but an obedient and dogged vant of Mr. Roosevelt, has been the actual taxauthority of the nation ever since 1933. The ministration taxing policies have been the policies the president, derived from the influence of fidants, hostile to that way of life which Mr. osevelt and Morgenthau have enjoyed from birth l which neither has ever renounced by actual rifice of personal wealth.

Even the most radical plans for the economic iteration of those who have earned their own sessions are so devised that they will not troy the heirs of established fortunes. Nor has president any reason to worry over the econic future of his family. He can leave them stantial bequests out of his inheritances and, reover they have been prodigious money-makers ce the day he was first inaugurated in 1933. at day the market price of the family's writings t up and the exploitation of the highest office the American republic for personal profit on the and otherwise became standard practice in a lent break with tradition and accepted ethics. The situation of most of the 17 million veteran ome taxpayers is quite different. Those who without inherited fortunes must pay their taxes of current earnings and the present indications that this year's toll in many cases will take ost all of the 1943 income. Indeed, in some ckets the total of federal and state income es will be much more than 100 per cent of the 3 income so that the effect of the taxing policy will be that of confiscation of capital after the manner of Mussolini and Hitler.

Most of the victims whose sons, of course, are not denied the right to fight for the preservation of the American way will have some savings, possibly in war bonds, but this money will have to go to Morgenthau whose agents will have authority to search it out and the end of the year should find them thoroughly liquidated in vindication of the old dictum that the power to tax is the power to destroy.

These taxpayers, as an economic group, can hardly be charged with creating their own fix by improvidence in the past. You can't arrange a budget to anticipate this year's taxes when you don't know how much the bill will be and congress didn't get around to that until October last year and will not finish the job for 1943 until the year is almost half gone. Moreover, from the beginning of the income tax, the system has been retroactive and nobody ever suspected that a time would come when it would take not only a year's entire earnings but a portion or all of the victim's savings, or leave him in debt at the substantial rate of 6 per cent. And the fact remains, although it is now forgotten, that many citizens took seriously and complied liberally with urgings of the New Deal in the panic days to renounce the homely old American virtue of thrift and squander money to stimulate trade, revive prosperity and reemploy the jobless.

The Ruml plan seems to be out the window not only because it would save a group of citizens from bankruptcy who are almost unanimously anti-Roosevelt in their domestic politics and held in a class designated as tories and reactionaries, but also because anything of this sort would be cried up as a special favor to the dirty rich so it is just as well to relax and see what happens.

The argument that Morgenthau is against the Ruml plan only because the treasury didn't think of it first is thoroughly unconvincing because he would never have proposed it even if he had thought of it first. This is the end of the long campaign to wipe out gross inequities in the social and economic system of the United States and it is wrong to accuse Morgenthau of latent defeatism in the hour of his party's triumph over the middle class.

There should be some wonderful bargains for heirs to millions in the way of depreciated stocks and real estate when the liquidation really gets under way.

Raymond Clapper is on his way to Sweden. His column will be resumed shortly.

INVESTIGATION OF ARMY, NAVY 'NEWS' LOOMS

Senators Plan Probe of How Agencies Handle War Information.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—The senate judiciary committee's inquiry into war publicity and propaganda today was broadened to cover the entire, vast scope of government public relations in connection with the war effort.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., in charge of the probe, said that it will go far beyond the initial examination of the office of war information.

"I think we should look into the methods under which both the war and navy departments operate," said O'Mahoney. "We should call Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Knox and other officials of these departments before us.

"We want to get a clear picture of how information regarding the war is handled by all of these agencies, both with a view to consideration of appropriations or any legislation."

The committee, it was indicated, will seek to determine whether there is any conflict between Elmer Davis, OWI director, and the armed services over methods of informing the public.

One member of the judiciary committee, who declined to be quoted, complained of the navy observing the anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor by disclosing the extent of the damage and making such a "splurge" on the air raid on Tokyo a year after it happened.

Meantime, members of a senate agriculture subcommittee prepared for blow-swapping between Davis and Rubber Director William M. Jeffers, who are expected to appear before the subcommittee on Monday to air their differences over the rubber program.

Sen. Guy M. Gillette (D) Iowa, chairman of the subcommittee, received word from Davis that he was anxious to appear and explain the OWI report on rubber, which was far more pessimistic than one given by Jeffers.

SEES BRICKER FACING DEFEAT ON TAX REPEAL

Survey Indicates Governor In Dilemma as GOP Resists Pressure.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS — The house of representatives will give Governor Bricker the most bruising defeat of his career as state chief executive if he forces a showdown on his proposed $8,000,000 sales tax reduction, sentiment of house Republicans indicated today.

A substantial majority of the many Republican members contacted by the United Press before they returned to their homes this week-end indicated that Bricker will have to bring more extreme pressure than he has ever before invoked to get house approval for the repeal of sales taxes on restaurant meals and prescription medicines—or any other tax reduction of similar amount.

Such pressure, house members pointed out, would violate Bricker"s oft-repeated dogma that the governor may recommend action while the legislature must settle policy. House resentment against executive interference and fear of appearing as a "rubber-stamp assembly" probably would defeat the most extreme measures of the governor, it was indicated.

Hamilton county Republicans yesterday issued a statement of reason why Bricker's inaugural proposal should not be granted, citing the fact that by Bricker's own budget estimates the state could not live within its income during 1943-1944 but would consume approximately $26,000,000 of the $45,000,000 surplus accumulated by the end of 1942.

Speaker William M. McCulloch, in Columbus, said the statement reflected the opinion of a substantial number of house members.

A Republican house caucus probably will be called early next week, McCulloch said, in which the house taxation committee may be freed to hear the senate-approved tax repealer, as requested by the governor.

But barring a marked change of heart by house members it appeared unlikely the committee would agree to the tax repeal as proposed, because of differences of opinion whether there should be any reduction, and if so how much and on what items.

"The governor made a grandstand presidential campaign play when he proposed the deduction as an inaugural surprise," said one majority member. "He should have been satisfied with that, letting us determine whether to legislate the reduction."

SLAYER JOKES ABOUT RATION

Convicted Cook Wonders If State Can Get Gas To Execute Him.

(By Associated Press)

ALBANY, Ore. — Outwardly unperturbed and joking about "my gas ration," Robert E. Lee Folkes faces the prospect of dying in Oregon's gas chamber as the adjudged knife slayer of a navy ensign's pretty bride in lower berth 13 of a California-bound train.

The impassive 20-year-old negro cook late yesterday heard a jury find him guilty in the first degree of murdering Mrs. Martha Virginia James, 21, before dawn Jan. 23. He yawned as he rose to leave the court and later in his cell laughed with visitors, saying, "wonder if they'll have any trouble getting my gas ration?"

Prosecution evidence offered at Folkes' trial was that he killed Mrs. James when she resisted his efforts to enter her berth.

There was no recommendation for leniency. Thus, under Oregon law, the conviction carried the death penalty.

For 17 hours and 15 minutes the jury of eight women and four men mulled the fate of the negro who assertedly confessed to Los Angeles police he thought the Norfolk, Va., girl was "just my type of woman—I couldn't get her out of my mind."

He was accused of slashing Mrs James' throat as the West Coast Limited sped along the snow-covered Willamette valley.

Defense attorney Leroy Lomax did not call on him to testify at the trial.

The story was written by Oscar Ruhl, former News-Journal sports editor, who is now with the Akron Beacon-Journal.

Another story of "local boy makes good" with a name band is that of Harold Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Becker, 325 Fairlawn drive, who is pianist with Bobby Sherwood's orchestra at the famous Roseland ballroom in New York. Harold graduated from Mansfield Senior high school in 1940 and before entering dance band work as a profession was assistant manager of the Ohio theater. Before joining Sherwood's band, he traveled for a year and a half over the country with Glay Gordon's band. But Harold's music plans will have to cut short when he comes home next month preparatory to entering the service.

IN HOLLYWOOD-- By Robbin Coons

OLLYWOOD—Blond and boisterous Betty Hutton is in the process of becoming a lady, not, carefully explains, that she thinks she has any ticular knack for it, nor because of any deepled yearning for refinement or culture.

But it's been many a year since Betty adopted acrobatic or catch-as-catch-can method of put over a song and frankly she's afraid it will permanently impair her vocal cords or maybe even unhinge her trim chassis.

Coons

Betty gained fame, as you know, by tackling a song like a buzz-saw tearing into a hardwood log, and some experts have opined that the sound was not dissimilar. It's going to be different now. A director found that Betty, when the mood was upon her, can sing, even a ballad, much like any other singer. She can do it without the gyras, convulsions and fierce paroxysms that have racterized her past work. She can play rottic scenes, too. She's getting a chance to do and she's very happy about it.

Betty is a practical young lady. You get that when you start singing on street corners and ons for a living when you're 14 or so, and on Paramount lot the other day she said she ks she's getting the biggest break of her life now that she's co-starred with Bob Hope in "Let's Face It." She gives her director, Sidney Lanfield, credit for detecting the potentialities beneath the madcap exterior.

"I don't expect to be a great dramatic actress," said Betty, who is just as beautiful as many actresses who are known as beautiful. 'But I do want to be a competent actress—an all-around actress."

Betty's outlook on life is a little different than it was 10 years or so ago when she was singing on the bar-room circuit around Lansing, Mich. But those experiences influenced her viewpoint, as she evidenced when asked what she did in her spare time now that she's up in the money.

"I've never had any spare time," she said, "and I don't seem to have any now. I don't particularly want a ranch in the valley. No, I haven't any special love interest. If you want to say something about me personally you can say I'm a darn good bowler, which I am."

Betty's mother shared the hard times with her back in Michigan, and when she was trying to get a start in New York, and she's sharing a modest apartment with her now not so far from the studio.

Most every filmgoer knows about Betty's earlier life, her travels with Vincent Lopez's orchestra and how she got her big chance on Broadway in "Panama Hattie." This being a lady is something new, though.

But all her friends believe that if the Hutton has made up her mind to be a fine lady she'll be the completest, most conscientious darned fine lady in these parts.

Come to EASTER SERVICES

THERE isn't likely to be one among us who hasn't much to pray for this Easter. There'll be a prayer in the heart of every man in battle . . . in fox-holes on land, on stormy, mine-laden seas, in the wide spaces of the air. Our boys will be praying this Easter for fulfillment of their faith that "right makes might" . . . that they may soon be back in the folds of their families, and that next Easter may find them atttending services with those they love in the Churches "back home."

And we who make up their memories of home . . . how deep and good and sure is the prayer that wells up in our hearts. We are the mothers and fathers, graved with the years, who reared our sons from the helplessness of babyhood to the all-sacrificing strength of fighting manhood. We are the wives who've gallantly smiled when we had to say "goodbye." We are too, the children, for whose future security and freedom they fight.

Oh yes, so many of us have so much to pray for this Easter. Surely these are prayers which will be heard, for they must echo His own, He who taught the glory of "Peace On Earth." His words . . . our prayers . . . the lives of those already fallen in battle . . . all these shall not have been in vain. So with courage and conviction, let us go to Church for Easter Services. And after prayer, let us go forth, each to the duties we have assumed as our responsibilities, in quickening the time in which those we love shall be Victorious.

Prayer is good for the spirit, invigorating it, and giving us the stamina to go on through whatever day of darkness may yet come. And the will to win . . . the work that we perform to win . . . these added to our prayers are what those who have gone forward to safeguard us from oppression . . . want of us. And it is so little for us to do!
